SEN. NELSON CRITICIZES BILL

WASHINGTON, June 20.—President Wilson tonight secured from a majority of the Democratic members of the house banking and currency committee expressions of harmony and acquiescence in the administration program of enacting a currency bill during the present session of congress. At a two hour conference held around the cabinet table in the white house office the congressmen were asked their views on the administration currency bill as it is to be introduced by Chairman Glass of the committee. Some of them had not yet thoroughly examined the measure but those who expressed opinions were favorably inclined toward it.

President Wilson after the conference told the newspaper correspondents that as far as he had observed there was a friendly feeling toward the fundamentals of the administration measure. Mr. Wilson said, moreover, that the members of the committee seemed all to desire action at the present session but that they had asked him not to hurry consideration of the bill so that it might be deliberated upon carefully. The president remarked that he had had no intention of seeking hasty action and hoped that by common counsel and conference a measure satisfactory to the party would be obtained.

President Wilson tonight began his conferences with the rank and file of the currency committees of both houses of congress. It is understood his purpose is to learn just what changes are likely to be demanded in the new Glass-Owens-McAdoo currency bill by its critics and opponents in the senate and house.

The publication of the bill by Chairman Glass was with President Wilson's full approval and to give members the opportunity to know the details of the plan of monetary reform. Tonight the president talked at length with members of the senate committee and later he will talk over the bill with Republican senators who have been closely identified with previous efforts at currency reform.

Antagonism Well Defined.

Antagonism to present action on the currency and criticism of the new bill as agreed upon by the administration leaders become well defined among senators today. While there is no organized effort to hold up action, prominent members of the senate currency committee expressed the belief that the committee expressed the belief that the committee as a whole does not favor the immediate passage of any bill and that President Wilson would be urged not to demand action during the extra session.

Comments on the measure by senators were guarded but several expressed the belief that the provision asked for by Representative Glass for the retirement of National bank notes and the refunding of the two per cent government bonds now securing that currency, with a three per cent issue should have been left in the bill. The most striking criticism of the measure came from Senator Nelson, a Republican member of the senate currency committee.

Calls it Temporary Make-shift.

"The bill made public by Mr. Glass seems to me but a temporary make-shift," he said, "and amounts to no more than the Aldrich-Vreeland emergency currency law. It is simply a provision for emergency currency and is more cumbersome in its machinery than the Vreeland bill. While it professes to decentralize by creating twelve or more reserve associations, yet it leaves control in the hands of a single board, composed largely of government officials.

"It fails utterly to amend or improve our present system of national banks and system of bond secured currency pertaining to them. At best it can only be looked upon as a temporary measure."

Democratic members of the committee expressed a desire to go over the measure in detail with President Wilson and so far no committee meeting has been called. The plan embodied in the measure has never been passed upon or endorsed by the senate committee, but it will furnish a basis upon which they will attempt to meet the president in case he is insistent upon legislation at this session.

"I am against the plan of central political control embodied in the bill," said Senator Hitchcock, a Democratic member of the committee, "just as I would be against a central business control of the

REACH SUMMIT OF MOUNT M'KINLEY

STUCK ACCOMPLISHES FIRST COM- PLETE ASCENT OF SOUTH PEAK

Party Spent Three Weeks in Con- tinuous Bad Weather Hewing a Passage Three Miles Long Through Northeast Ridge.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 20.—Arch Deacon Hudson Stuck, the Episcopal missionary who set out from Fairbanks, Alaska, several months ago to climb to Mount McKinley, reached the summit of the highest peak of the great mountain June 17th, according to a private cable dispatch received here today. The message which was sent by Arch Deacon Stuck from Fairbanks, said:

"Expedition successful. Accomplished first complete ascent of Mount McKinley, June 17th. H. P. Karstens, R. G. Tatum, Walter Harper and I reached top of South (the highest of all) peak on a clear day when it was possible to reach all the angles of the mountain over prominent points and make certain that the peak we had conquered was the highest of all."

"We successfully carried a mercurial barometer to the top and made complete readings and observations which, with simultaneous readings at Gibbon should permit a close approximation of the true altitude when proper corrections are applied. Water boiled 174.9 degrees. The present estimate of the summit's height is upwards of 20,500 feet."

"We were able to read angles on all prominent points. With field glasses we clearly saw the flag pole erected in 1910 by the Thomas Lloyd expedition on the North Peak (the lower of the two main peaks)."

"After completing observations on the summit we hoisted the American flag on the upper basin, erected a six foot cross and said to deum on the highest point of North America."

"The northeast ridge is the only possible approach to the summit. Due to the violent earthquakes of last July the higher ridges were terribly shattered and this added largely to the danger, difficulty and labor of the ascent."

"We spent three weeks in continuous bad weather, hewing a passage three miles long through this side. This was the chief cause of delay, as we made rapid progress at all other stages of the journey."

"The chief credit for our success is due to Karstens' good judgment, resourcefulness and caution. We did not have a single mishap."

MAD DOGS TERRORIZE SOUTH CHICAGO DISTRICT

Bull Dog and Great Dane Place Dis- trict in State of Siege Before Be- ing Killed by Police.

Chicago, June 20.—Two mad dogs placed St. Brendan's school on the South Side in a state of siege today, terrorized a district of several blocks in the vicinity of the school, chased two men up telephone poles and bit one man and several dogs. Both dogs were killed by the police.

The police were called to the school house after all the pupils had been locked in it. Recresses and intermissions were dispensed with until the police reported both dogs dead.

The automobile patrol filled with men then went in search of the dogs. At Marshfield avenue and West Sixty-fourth street, the patrol drivers were hailed by two men from the top of a telephone pole. At the bottom of the pole a brindle bull dog was on guard. He charged the patrol and was killed.

The other dog, a great Dane, was shot and killed a block away at the door of a cellar in which several had taken refuge.

Eight persons, six of them children were bitten by dogs in various sections of the city.

WILL PETITION FOR EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY

Fort Dodge, Ia., June 20.—Judge Reed in federal court today sentenced Charles A. Isaacs, former Forest City banker, to five years in the penitentiary at Stillwater, for making false entries in the books of the bank. Isaacs pleaded guilty to the thirty-eight other counts were dismissed. Judge Reed announced that he would hold the mittimus sixty days so that a petition for executive clemency may be presented to President Wilson.

Attorneys for Isaacs, claim that he did not profit by his act and that he simply was trying to save the bank, which is still running. It is claimed the depositors did not lose any money.

EFFECTS OF PTOMANE POISONING FATAL.

Mt. Pleasant, Ia., June 20.—Reuben Stafford, son of Dr. Stafford, former president of Iowa Wesleyan, died today in Duluth, Minn., from the effects of ptomaine poison, according to reports received here.

system. I believe the regional reserve associations should be independent as banks now are and that the government should limit its control to that of a supervisor over their actions. The bill also in my opinion shows a total failure to provide any reserve for the payment of notes the government proposes to issue and for which it will be required to pay out gold at any time."

REFUSES TO CAUCUS ON AMENDMENT

House Refuses to Consi- der Senate Amendment to Public Utilities Bill

SENATE PASSES BILL

Senate Passes Public Utility Bill With Home Rule Feature By Vote of 32 to 7

CHANGE IN COMMISSION LAW

BULLETIN.
Springfield, June 21.—The senate early this morning, by a vote of 27 to 20, tore the "home rule" feature out of the public utility bill and passed the measure up Governor Dunne in the form in which it passed the house.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 20.—At 11:30 tonight the house refused to concur in the senate amendments to the public utility bill. The vote was 70 ayes to 43 nays. A constitutional majority of 77 votes is necessary to the adoption of any conference committee report. The senate now can either recede from its amendments to the house bill or ask for a conference committee. It is unlikely that the senate will recede and it is not definitely settled that it will ask for a conference committee. Unless the bill goes to a conference it is dead for this session. Advocates of the "home rule" feature of the public utilities bill now fear the senate will recede from its home rule amendments when the matter comes before the senate.

Deadlocked On Election Law.

The senate and house deadlocked tonight on the new primary election law when the senate by a vote of 26 to 22 refused to concur in the report of the conference committee appointed to reconcile between the senate and house on the bill. Another conference committee was asked of the house. The woman's ten hour work day bill was killed tonight when the senate by a vote of 21 to 17 tabled a motion to appoint a conference committee after the house had refused to concur in the senate amendment to the bill.

Notable Assembly Ends.

Springfield, June 21.—Notable for the legislation it defied as well as for the laws it passed the forty-eighth general assembly of Illinois so far as any real business is concerned, became a matter of history at an early hour this morning.

Longest Session on Record.

In addition to selecting two United States senators the last perhaps to be elected by a legislature in Illinois the present assembly passed a woman's suffrage law and has been in session for the longest time on record. When the gavel fell this morning the two houses stood adjourned to June 30th, when they will again assemble for the purpose of receiving any veto messages the governor may wish to transmit. The closing hours of the final session were marked by the usual presentation of chests of silver and other gifts to the speaker, floor leaders and committee chairman.

Executive a Busy Man.

The close of the session will not mean a cessation of work for Governor Dunne, who during the ensuing ten days will be one of the busiest men in the state. In addition to the task of considering the bills passed by the assembly the governor plans, during the next few days to dispose of a large patronage within his gift. Much of this patronage has been held up until such a time as the assembly completed its labors.

On top all this the governor is confronted with the task of scaling down a $27,700,000 budget in order to prevent the tax rate from soaring to 65 or 70 cents.

Budget Greatly Increased.

Not the least important acts of the present assembly was the passage of the woman's suffrage bill, Illinois being the first state east of the Mississippi river to grant to women the vote. The budget for the next two years is nearly three times the size of that passed for the last two years of the administration of former Governor Altgeld and nine million dollars in excess of the appropriations for last two years of the Deussen administration. The session ratified the proposed amendment to the United States constitution providing for the direct election of federal senators being one of the last states to make up the two-thirds majority and by its action very likely influenced other states in following Illinois' example. It passed laws providing for the direct nomination and election of United States senators and made provision for the direct election of delegates to the national conventions for the first time in the history of the state.

Among the bills passed and which is regarded as by Governor Dunne as one of the most important reform measures of the entire session is the measure which enables cities and telephone utilities. Numbered in the list of bills

FRIDAY IN CONGRESS.

Senate.
Not in session.
Meets Saturday.
Democrats caucused to discuss tariff bill as amended by finance committee.

House.
Met at noon.

Passed concurrent resolution for joint session of congress in house chamber Monday to hear President Wilson read his address on currency legislation. Representative Neeley in speech urged reopening of money trust inquiry.

Senate and house joint committee urged to amend and broaden Erdman act.

Secretary McAdoo asked $100,000 appropriation for vessels to enforce laws for protection of Alaskan fish and for animals.

Accepted Pennsylvania's invitation to attend Gettysburg celebration and speaker authorized to appoint committee of 20. Indian appropriation bill as amended by senate was sent to conference.

Representative Goulden reintroduced his bill for establishing a United States national bank of America.

Adjourned at 6:20 p. m., until noon Monday.

which the session did not pass several of the bills designated by the governor as "administration measures, including the initiative and referendum resolution, the governor's tax commission bill abolishing the state board of equalization.

The assembly defeated the attempt to repeal the township local option law, as well as the bill providing for county option but on the other hand extended and strengthened anti-liquor laws of the state. One of the hardest fights of the closing hours was over a liquor bill—the Gorman measure permitting the transfer of saloon license.

The following administration bills were passed by the assembly: Municipal ownership of all public utilities carrying a referendum clause.

Amendments to primary law providing for the rotation of names of candidates for state offices on the primary ballot.

Employment of convict labor on state highways.

Establishment of a state epileptic colony.

Consolidation of the fish and game departments.

Income Appropriations.
The total appropriations of the forty-eighth general assembly amount to approximately $37,600,000. This is $8,000,000 greater than they were two years ago.

Among the bills signed by Governor Dunne today and which will become laws July 1 are:

The free school law by increasing the amount to 3 per cent which can be raised for school purposes; changes annual election of directors from third to second Saturday in April.

Appropriating $300,000 for an Illinois building exhibit at the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco in 1915. Incorporation of churches and other ecclesiastical societies. The senate today voted down the salary increase bill raising the compensation of members of the general assembly from $2,000 to $3,500 a term.

The house defeated senate bill providing a two-year tenure of office for the secretary of the senate and the clerk of the house.

A bill that passed the legislature reduces the per cent necessary to submit the recall of commissioners under the commission form of government from 55 to 25 and provides that the questions of adopting or rejecting the commission form of government may be voted upon every two years instead of four.

The senate this afternoon by a vote of 32 to 7 passed the administration public utility bill with the home rule feature incorporated in the measure and with the feature allowing the state commission control over the issuing of stocks and bonds eliminated. Under the bill a state commission is created to have charge of public utilities outside of cities and in all cities under 20,000 population. All cities are allowed to pass under or out from under the control of the state commission on referendum vote.

The senate concurred in the conference committee report on the omnibus appropriation bill.

A bill that passed the legislature gives veterans of the Spanish-American war and of the Philippine insurrection the same preference in civil service appointments as allowed veterans of the civil war.

Bill Fails to Pass.

Senate bill legalizing the transfer of saloon licenses was given another tryout in the house at the afternoon session and failed to pass. It received 75 affirmative votes, two short of a constitutional majority. Before the announcement of the vote further consideration was postponed.

The bill was called up by Representative Brown. Representative George H. Wilson, the dry leader, objected to its consideration but acting Speaker McLaughlin did not recognize him. Representative Catlin told the house that he had called upon Governor Dunne and had been informed by the executive that he would veto the license, if, in the opinion of the attorney general, it created a vested interest. The tax levy bill for the next two years provided that $10,600,000 shall be raised in the list of bills

REVISED BILL LAID BEFORE DEMOCRATS

Changes are Explained to Senate Democrats and Bill Made Public

RATES GREATLY REDUCED

"Simmons Bill" Represents Heavier Cut from Existing Rates Than Bill House Passed

LITTLE CAUCUS REVISION

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Important reductions in the Underwood tariff bill rates on iron, steel and other metal products; the addition of cattle, wheat, pig-iron, angora wool and many other articles to the free list, and an increase in rates on many other articles to the free list, and an increase in rates on many classes of cotton goods and some silk products, were the chief features of the revised tariff bill as it was laid before senate Democrats today by Chairman Simmons of the finance committee. After weeks of work in which every item had undergone close scrutiny by sub-committee of the membership of the finance committee, the re-drafted measure was brought into the Democratic caucus today. For two hours the important changes were explained to Democrats and the bill was then made public.

Experts of the committee at once began work on a committee preparing a summary of the changes.

President Wilson desires as to free sugar in 1916 and free wool at once prevailed in the redraft of the bill. To the list of "market basket" reductions the Underwood bill contained the senate committee added many important items. In the general level of its rates the "Simmons bill" represents a heavier cut from existing rates of the Payne-Aldrich law than did the bill as it passed the house. The senate caucus adjourned early and members spent the afternoon working out private analyses of the measure. The caucus will reconvene tomorrow. Senate leaders believe the bill will reach the senate itself late next week.

Will Make Few Changes.

Members of the finance committee expressed the belief tonight that there would not be much revision in the caucus. The chief interest, of course, centers on wool and sugar, but administration leaders believe that there will be no change in them and that all but two or perhaps three senators will take the pledge binding themselves to support the bill. Senator Simmons, chairman of the committee, believes that the bill will discuss the bill not longer than a week and that after the bill has been submitted to the full membership of the finance committee it will be reported to the senate.

"This is one of the few items," Senator Gore said tonight, "when a tariff bill has come from a senate committee with lower rates than the house had prepared. We have not figured just how much the average rate of the bill will be, but we have materially reduced nearly schedule, except cotton."

In a statement of the rate changes prepared tonight for the committee Chairman Simmons said that "as a result of the changes proposed in the house bill by the Democratic members of the finance committee, the revenues of the government would be increased approximately $5,000,000, hand in hand with a reduction of the taxation following the reductions already made in the house bill."

These increases in revenues will be made up by a tariff on bananas and restoration of the full internal revenue duty of $1.10 per gallon on brandies used in fortifying wines.

Statement Regarding Changes.

Concerning certain of the changes the committee statement said: "The chemical schedule remains substantially as it came from the house with the exception that certain vat colors which enter largely into the manufacture of cotton, woolen and other textiles which the house put on the dutiable list have been transferred to the free list. Green and oil which is used principally for the preservation of timber was taken from the dutiable and placed on the free list. A slight increase in duty was made with reference to the manufacture of celluloid, cyanide of potash and cyanide of soda were also transferred from the dutiable to the free list."

"With regard to the sugar schedule, no change was made from the provision of the Underwood bill, except to strike out 'sugars' and to add 'molasses' for fear that ultramarine blue used in bleaching sugar might be regarded as colored matter and thereby refined sugar become subject to a duty of two cents per pound."

With regard to cigars and other tobacco products from the Philippines, the provision of the Underwood bill permitting cigars with 80 per cent of tobacco, the product of the Philippines and 20 per cent of tobacco, the product of the foreign countries to be admitted into the United States free of duty was stricken out of the bill. Only cigars and tobacco products, exclusively of Philippine tobacco to be admitted free of duty into the United States.

AVIATOR HURLED FROM DISABLED BI-PLANE

NAVY AIR PILOT DROPS 1,600 FEET TO HIS DEATH

Ensign Billingsley is First Navy Vic- tim of Aeroplane—Lies. Towers Clings to Hurling Wreckage and Miraculously Escapes Death.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 20.—The navy added its first victim to the death roll of the air today when Ensign William D. Billingsley was hurled from a disabled bi-plane 1600 feet in the air and fell straight as a plummet into the depths of Chesapeake bay. Lieut. John A. Towers, chief of the navy aviators, clung to the hurtling wreckage that followed his comrade's course from sky to water and escaped death almost miraculously. About ten miles down the bay a gust of wind struck the fragile aeroplane. Ensign Billingsley was thrown forward across the steering gear, which was disabled. The front planes of the craft fell and it started like a dead bird for the blue expanse of water 1600 feet below. As it dropped the pilot was catapulted out and turning over and over his body outsped the disabled machine toward the water and sank in the bay.

When the aeroplane started on its dive for the bay Lieut. Towers clung desperately to one of the uprights between the planes. Although at times his body swung clear of the rapidly falling airship he maintained his hold with hand and arm almost wrenched apart. After falling about 500 feet the biplane turned a complete somersault and for a moment the force of the fall was broken. Striking the bay it carried Lieut. Towers beneath the water but he rose to the surface almost immediately and was rescued.

An examination of Lieut. Towers tonight developed the fact that he probably was more seriously injured than had been believed. It was discovered that in addition to internal injuries he had a rib broken and that his body from head to foot was a mass of bruises from his terrific impact with the water. A more thorough examination will be made tomorrow if the lieutenant's condition permits.

INSANE MAN SHOTS DOWN LITTLE CHILDREN AT SCHOOL

Three Are Dead and Many Are In- jured As Result of Madman's At- tack With Automatic Pistols.

Bremen, Germany, June 20.—Three school children are dead, five others and a teacher are perhaps mortally and fourteen additional children and two men more or less seriously wounded as the result of a madman with automatic pistols running amuck in a Catholic school here today.

The murderer is a young head teacher named Schmidt, who had been without employment for some months. Entering the school corridor this morning Schmidt, without warning fired upon and wounded the woman teacher. Then with an automatic pistol in each hand he entered a class room where the little girls were at their studies and opened fire upon them. There was a wild panic during which one girl fell down the stairs and broke her neck. The lunatic then fired in the courtyard where the boys were gathered, bullets striking several of them. The lunatic was finally overpowered and as there was no question that Schmidt was violently insane he was committed to an asylum.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR OPPOSES MEASURE.

Washington, June 20.—Vigorous opposition from the new department of labor to the proposed arbitration and mediation act, prepared by the railroads and railroad brotherhoods for enactment by congress was voiced today when the measure was presented to a joint session of the house and senate inter-state commerce commissions.

Secretary Wilson criticized the new measure as going beyond the necessities of the hour.

The two committees will continue consideration of the bill, but there has been no indication that either will report it during the extra session.

schedule the statement said: "An additional section is added reading so much of the act approve sections 1, 1890, and acts amendatory thereto, so far as they relate to the use of free of tax of spirits for the fortification of sweet wines and providing that hereafter all wine spirits, grape brandy and alcohol so used shall be subject to the same tax as in other cases. It is estimated that this tax will result in an increase of revenues of approximately seven millions of dollars per annum."

The senate finance committee followed the house and treated the cotton yarn as the house bill treated cotton cloth. The statement continued, "by adding a duty of two and one-half per cent upon cotton cloth when combed, bleached dyed, mercerized or colored. This is the most important change that the senate committee made in the house cotton schedule. The senate committee reduced the tariff on cotton laps, roping, silver or roving from 10 per cent to 5 per cent and its substituted term 'woven figures' for 'laid figures', where used in the bill."

Changes in the administrative section and the income tax will be reported later to the caucus.

MANY VETERANS UNPROVIDED FOR

War Department Is Pre- pared for but 40,000 Veterans at Gettysburg

EXPECT 10,000 MORE

Commission Expects 50,000 Old Soldiers to be in Attendance at the Celebration

SECY. GARRISON'S STATEMENT

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Ten thousand veterans who are planning to take part in the semi-centennial celebration and blue and gray reunion on Gettysburg battlefield next month will find themselves without quarters or subsistence unless the celebration committee can provide for them. The war department has been notified that 50,000 veterans will attend, but there are funds to care for only 40,000 and Secretary Garrison today notified the commission that he would not accept responsibility for entertaining the additional number.

The secretary sent this telegram to the commission:

"If you have arranged that 10,000 in addition are to attend you must provide the funds to take care of them. There are no funds available to me for this purpose and I am positively prohibited by express acts of congress from incurring one dollar's worth of expense over and above the amounts specifically appropriated for this particular case. If I should do so I would not only disobey the express law, but would lay myself open both to civil and criminal liability. If you have committed yourself to the entertainment of more than 40,000 initially expected you must make to perfectly plain to all those over 40,000 that the responsibility is entirely your and that you will provide for them. I have no facilities, no prospect of getting any, which enables me to do more than take care of the 40,000."

Discussing the situation later Secretary Garrison said:

"Unless the commission is in a position to supply the money needed for the additional and unprovided for expense, they will have created an alarming condition of affairs. The commission has been making all the arrangements with respect to those who are to participate. The camp itself was placed by congress under the care of the secretary of war. The appropriation from congress and all previous arrangements have been based upon estimated attendance of 40,000 veterans. At this late date I am informed by one depot quartermaster on the ground that the commission has advised him that we must provide for 50,000. If 50,000 would come a most serious situation would be encountered. I simply haven't the means to take care of more than 40,000 originally planned for and I have no way of procuring any additional means."

Six Confederate veterans, three Union veterans, one Spanish war veteran and eleven other representatives, including Speaker Clark, will represent the house at the Gettysburg celebration. Included in the list are Representatives Kirkpatrick, Iowa; Graham, Illinois; Booher, Missouri; Dixon, Indiana; Mann, Illinois.

In making the appointments Speaker Clark discovered that there was not actually thirty veteran on the Republican side of the house. The speaker shook his head sadly as he commented on this and recalled that when he came to Washington in 1913 there were a dozen civil war generals and a score or more of colonels, majors and captains in congress.

PARTY BELIEVED LOST.

Keokuk, Ia., June 20.—Five people who made up a lunch party on Lake Cooper, above the dam on the Mississippi, last night, are believed to have drowned. They went up the river in the evening and have not been seen since. They are John Laughtlin, Alfred J. Gross, Miss Mamie Wilson, Mrs. Mary Wright and Miss Pauline Marks, all prominently known here.

ON VARIED THEMES.

The days of Democratic economy have arrived and the affairs of Illinois are to be run on a strictly business basis. The legislature has only increased the appropriations for the coming two years by $8,000,000.

One cannot judge with certainty of the value of the administration utilities bill passed by the senate yesterday with some changes, until all of the details of the bill are known. If, however, Illinois is to have a utilities commission there seems to be no especially good reason why only cities of 20,000 or under shall be under this commission. But the clause which gives to all cities the right to withdraw from commission control by a referendum vote is a saving provision and will make it possible for the people to express their opinions and wishes. The bill provides for members of a commission with salaries of $10,000 each, for an attorney at a high figure and certainly at least will create some plums for distribution. No doubt Gov. Dunne will have a hard time finding any Democrats willing to sacrifice their private affairs and accept appointment on this commission.

A bill passed yesterday by the legislature reduces the per cent necessary to submit the recall of a commissioner serving under the commission form of government act from 55 to 25 and also that the question of returning to an aldermanic system may be submitted upon every two-year period instead of four. When the present commission form of government act was passed it was urged that the per cent necessary for the recall vote should be high enough so that a public official need not fear that his every act is to be questioned and likely to start a recall movement. It was argued, too, that a low percentage, like 25, would give an official lack of confidence and stamina and there seems to be a lot of truth in that position. When a public official knows that it takes only 25 per cent to cause the question of a recall to be submitted it may make him very careful in performing his duties; it may make him so fearful of offending that he will form his duties arranged to have least to the annoyance of a recall vote because he has acted contrary to the wishes of a comparatively small per cent of the citizenship.

At the Get-Together banquet of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday night Mayor Davis made a significant statement when he was talking about the desire of the city officials to work with business men to accomplish the best things possible for Jacksonville. The mayor said that he supposed after the great interest shown by citizens in the adoption of the commission form of government that there would be a lot of citizens wanting to attend sessions of the city council and thus keep in touch with the affairs of the city. With that idea in mind the council arranged to have sessions at 10 o'clock each Monday morning in order to give the public an opportunity to attend without inconvenience. "I have been surprised," said the mayor, "to note how few the visitors have been. Usually nobody but the commissioners and reporters are present and I do not remember ever seeing five visitors present at one time unless by special invitation. We welcome at any time the co-operation and interest of citizens in managing the affairs of the city and only by this co-operation can we get the best results."

Chairman Heintz of the department of rural affairs of the Chamber of Commerce has asked the directors to appropriate the sum of $120 to add to a sum of $1,000 which the government will give for the salary of an expert on farm costs to be put into this field. The great increase in interest in agricultural affairs of this state during recent years is justified by the vast importance of agriculture to the state. The government recognizes the importance of the work and is co-operating wherever possible in order to bring to pass not only greater soil fertility, but also business like methods in the handling of farms. An expert seeking information locally as to farm management and costs of operation would be of value here and to make this locality known as a source of valuable information would be worth while, too, in an advertising way. It is to be hoped that the special government agent is secured.

Mr. Gause brought a matter of importance to attention at the Get-Together banquet, when he suggested what a business men's organization with funds might do in seeking for better freight rates into Jacksonville and in fighting against discriminations. It seems to be a well established fact that Springfield and Jacksonville pay higher rates on proportionately than Decatur and other cities. To bring about a re-adjustment of freight rates would mean a long and expensive fight, but it is likely that a great deal could be accomplished if Jacksonville had sufficient funds to unite with some other cities in the effort to secure better rates. The time was only a few years ago when the rate on coal into Jacksonville from Springfield was 40 cents and now it is 54 cents. While the 54-cent rate applies from Springfield here, a distance of thirty-five miles and from Virden, a distance of about twenty-five miles, the roads for a long time hauled coal from the same points into Chicago for seventy-five cents a ton. Certainly there must be a lot of profit in a recent rate into Jacksonville or a lot of loss on a 5-cent rate to Chicago. Only a few months since the roads changed the rate from the Carterville and Franklin county fields into Jacksonville from 79 to 89 cents. This was done in order to conserve business for the Springfield mines. Meanwhile, nobody but the public pays the increase. A chamber of commerce with sufficient funds could find a great field of activity in working on freight rates.

The Real Col. J. Ham Lewis, James Hamilton Lewis, it is said

down in Washington, has succeeded in gaining more prominence than the average senator does in the first three years of his term. He has engaged actively in the debates of the senate and holds the newly created post of "whip" in that august body. The last issue of the Saturday Evening Post on the "Who's Who and Why" page presents a picture of Col. Lewis with this under line, "Ability plus eccentricity." The writer goes on to proclaim that Col. Lewis is one of the shrewdest advertisers that ever came down the political pike and then the writer furnishes proof that the papers are never stingy with space when Col. Lewis is concerned, by contributing over two more columns of publicity for him.

This astute "estimator" of the values of men in public life has this, among other things, to say about Col. Lewis: "I have watched Jim Ham in operation for many years; have seen him strut and pose; have heard him spout the polysyllabic results of his explorations in the dictionary; have observed the waxing and the waning of the pinkness of his whiskers; have gazed with awe at his waistcoats; have marvelled at his supply of spats; have talked to him and about him; have discovered his imperturbable egotism; his absolute headlessness of rebuff; his capacity for horning in, his skill at landing topside up—and I desire to set down here my opinion that James Hamilton Lewis is a deliberately contrived, a well-defined, a definitely planned advertising device for James Hamilton Lewis. Moreover there is a pretty fair stock of goods on hand to back up the advertisement."

It is quite likely there are persons who have seen Lewis when he was not on exhibition. I never have. But I venture the statement that when he is off watch, when he is alone, it is his turn to laugh—and he does laugh. You cannot tell me that any man who is smart enough to get as far as Jim Ham has, isn't clever enough to maintain his pose in any and all circumstances—isn't smart enough not to know it is a pose. In his heart of hearts Jim Ham knows he is acting; but that is all right, for he is a good actor and he has had some good parts. If one could get behind the pink whiskers one would find that Jim Ham is under no delusions about himself. He understands exactly what he is doing and what he has been doing.

EVERY STREET IN JACKSONVILLE

Has Its Share of the Proof That Kidney Sufferers Seek.

Backache? Kidney's weak? Distressed with urinary ills? Want a reliable kidney remedy? Don't have to look far. Use what Jacksonville people recommend. Every street in Jacksonville has its cases.

Here's one Jacksonville man's experience.

Let G. V. Skinner, of 853 South East street tell it.

G. V. Skinner, blacksmith, 853 South East street, Jacksonville, Ill., says: "I am convinced that Doan's Kidney Pills are the best kidney medicine to be had. One of our family suffered a great deal from kidney weakness and backache and was relieved in every way, by Doan's Kidney Pills."

Mr. Skinner is only one of many Jacksonville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if you have kidney trouble—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Skinner had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. #### DANVILLE ADMITTED TO GOLF ASSOCIATION.

Danville has been designated, according to announcement yesterday, as the eighth city in the Central Illinois Country Club association, replacing Jacksonville, which dropped out last year on account of being unable to secure a new lease on the club grounds. There were a number of clubs who wanted in, but they were impracticable on account of geographical location. A mail vote was taken by Secretary Frank I. Conger of Galesburg and Danville won out over Joliet and Canton, the two nearest opponents. According to the rotation of office Danville will get the 1914 tournament.

FILED IN CIRCUIT COURT.

A suit has been brought in the Morgan county circuit court by the Chicago Horse Sales company against S. L. Burnett of Waverly. The Chicago company sues Mr. Burnett for the payment of a $300 check, the price of a horse sold him Nov. 18, 1912, the check being sent to Chicago by the Bank of Waverly protested. A justice's hearing was heard lately in Chicago in which Mr. Burnett sought to avoid payment on the horse because its eyes were not good. The case was appealed to the circuit court.

Pass Miners' Qualification Act.
The qualification act creating a state board of examiners of miners and requiring all coal miners to pass an examination before beginning work passed the legislature. It eliminates the provision in the present law for an interpreter and requires all examination questions to be answered in English.

The municipal ownership bill as passed authorizes cities to purchase and sell public utilities and legalizes operation of utilities now owned by municipalities.

The widow's pension fund bill which passed provides for a pension of not more than $10 a month for one child and not more than $10 a month for each additional child under 14 years.

Adopt Committee Report.
Both houses adopted the report of the second conference committee on house bill 834 the revision of the primary law. The report amends the law as it passed the house so that all cities must come under its provisions. The rotation of names on the ball was left out.

BARBARA II FIRST TO FINISH.
New York, June 20.—The motor boat Barbara II crossed the finish line off Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, at 9:25 o'clock this evening, the first to finish of the entrants in the race from Bermuda. The Barbara II and Teesam started at 6 p. m., June 17. The Dream, winner of the Philadelphia-Bermuda race, left at 4:30 p. m., June 18.

INJURIES PROVE FATAL.
Chicago, June 20.—After being rushed to Chicago from Watseka, Ill., where he was injured in a runaway, Patrick Anderson, said to be a wealthy farmer, died from his injuries in a hospital tonight. Anderson's wife also was seriously injured. A dog frightened their horse.

KILLED WHEN AUTO TURNS TURTLE.
Sioux City, Ia., June 20.—Mrs. Richard Lauman, wife of a prominent citizen of Wayne, Neb., was killed when an automobile turned turtle while the family was returning to Wayne from Sioux City last night.

Uncrowned Queens.
There have been seven uncrowned queens of England. The first was Margaret of France, the second wife of Edward I. Money was scarce in the government coffers at the time, and Edward could not afford the expense of a coronation. The four later wives of Henry VIII., Anne Boleyn's successors—Jane Seymour, Anne of Cleves, Catherine Howard and Catherine Parr—were never publicly crowned as queen consorts. Perhaps it was because Henry thought it would cause ridicule to have coronations occur as frequently as his marriages. Henrietta Maria, the wife of Charles I., being a strict Catholic, refused to take part in a state function which would compel her to partake of the Sacrament, according to the rites of the Church of England. Sophia Dorothea, the wife of George I. and mother of George II., was never recognized as queen of England and therefore cannot be classed as one of Britain's uncrowned queens. Caroline of Brunswick, the wife of George IV., was not permitted to be present in Westminster hall at his coronation.—London Mail.

Artificial Ears.
Artificial ears are so skillfully made that they may with difficulty be distinguished from natural ones. It is said. When the person who has lost an ear applies to the manufacturer for a substitute there is made a mold of the remaining ear. If there be left any part of the other a mold of that part also must be taken to assist in the fitting of the artificial. Manufacturers assert that no two ears are alike and that it takes a skillful workman to prepare an ear from the mold or molds. When finished, says Harper's Weekly, the new ear is pasted on the stump or simply set in the position of the lost ear. It is really only the first artificial ear that is expensive, the chief cost pertaining to the making of the mold. Vulcanized rubber, which can be bent and twisted, has been found to constitute the best material for the making of artificial ears.

The Two Fine Things of Life.
Because it is an elementary thing to do it requires courage to buy or build a house. Buy? Build? The universal head becomes a pendulum of warning. There are just two fine things open to most of us between the cradle and the grave. One is to marry and the other is to acquire a home, and the modern answer to both proposals is the same. "Don't," so greatly do men fear life, so exorbitantly do they purpose to enjoy it. Philip Gilbert Hamerton, in "The Intellectual Life," pointed out that the invention of railways had resulted in a return to one of the most marked phases of barbarism, a nomadic life. Since he wrote we have invented the motorcar and the flat, and fixity of residence, which is a distinctive mark of civilization, has become its decision or despair.—London T. P.'s Weekly.

RESEMBLES MURDERER.
Quincy, Ill., June 20.—Miss Hazel Lindoft, of Galesburg, viewed the body of Andrew Tompkins, who was killed here Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff McNay, tonight, and said that he resembled the man that killed her father, Prof. Lindoft on the night of June 19th.

HOOTMAN WINS GRAND AMERICAN HANDICAP SHOOT

Winner of Tournament Scored 97 Out of 100—Was Tied With C. A. Graper and J. A. Blunt.

Dayton, Ohio, June 20.—The Grand American handicap gun tournament was won here today by M. S. Hootman of Hicksville, Ohio. Hootman scored 97 out of 100. He was tied with G. A. Graper and J. A. Blunt, but won in the shoot off, making a perfect score of 20 targets.

When the shooters finished their first 80 targets last evening, G. A. Graper of Custer Park, Ill., was leading with 78 out of a possible 80, while Hootman and J. A. Blunt of Greensboro, Ala., had tallied 77 each. By perfect scores the two last named brought their count to 97 out of 100 at the finish while Graper, losing one shot, was tied with them. In the shoot-off Hootman broke 20 out of 20 while Graper fell down on his seventeenth shot and Blunt on his eighteenth. The score of 97 made by these three amateurs was high, none of the professionals getting as many.

According to the regulations of the tournament the winner receives a prize of $600 in addition to a handsome trophy, while the second man gets $500 and the third $400. However, before starting the shoot-off Hootman, Graper and Blunt agreed to divide the entire sum equally regardless of the outcome and as a result each took down $500.

Consolation Handicap.
In the consolation handicap, held this afternoon, S. B. F. Covert of Lockport, N. Y., was high amateur with 96. G. Grubb, of Wetmore, Ark., was second with 95. Ed. O'Brien of Florence, Ky., led the professionals with 97.

ELEVEN INJURED WHEN SLEEPING CAR JUMPS TRACK

Sleeper Turns Over Twice Before Coming to a Stop—Injured Brought to Cairo.

Cairo, Ill., June 20.—Eleven persons were injured, two probably fatally, and scores of other passengers were badly shaken up, when a sleeping car on the Mobile & Ohio train No. 2, northbound, jumped the track at Laketon, Ky., at noon today.

The train was going at high speed when the accident occurred. The sleeper turned over twice before it came to a stop. A bucking rail is believed to have caused the accident. L. M. Crowley, the Pullman conductor, and M. Grigsby, the colored porter, are expected to survive. Others injured are:

Joseph Nixon and his daughter Mary of Mobile, Ala.
Mrs. H. R. Hanson and her son Merlin of Mobile, Ala.
C. O. Sheerer and his son Larry of Trimble, Ill.
R. M. Simmons, wife and baby of McCook, Neb.

Of these Miss Mary Nixon is the most seriously injured. Laketon is about fifteen miles south of Cairo. The injured were brought here and placed in a hospital this afternoon.

MY LADY CLARE CIGAR.
I touch a match to my cigar
And mundane things that really are Swift hide behind the filmy cloak
That's fashioned from the fragrant smoke.

And in the floating clouds and rings,
Indefinite, my vision brings
The faces of my lady friends;
Then, as the hazy visions blend,
I know my artist, Lady Clare,
Has been to me even more than fair.

INDICT ITALIAN.
Cleveland, June 20.—The federal grand jury here today returned an indictment against Giuseppe Pomare the Youngstown, Ohio, Italian arrested recently charged with sending a threatening letter to President Wilson demanding $5,000. He immediately was arraigned, pleaded not guilty and was held under $5,000 bond for trial on June 26th.

CHARGE MISMANAGEMENT.
Mt. Pleasant, Ia., June 20.—Charges that affairs of the town of Winfield have been mismanaged during the last three years and that councilmen have been illegally interested in municipal contracts, were made today in a petition filed with the state auditor by fifty taxpayers of Winfield. The petition asks that the books of the town for three years be re-opened.

"FAREWELL" TO BUFFE.

A "farewell" bachelor dinner to Fred G. Buffe, of the Herald-Transcript, who is about to be married, was tendered by Bernie Smith at his residence, 615 Second street, last night.

The rooms were appropriately decorated and the walls bore inscriptions suitable to the occasion. Shepton F. McGrath was selected to make the presentation speech in presenting Mr. Buffe with some highly useful articles. Thereupon every one present gave the prospective bridegroom some advice relative to their use. It was a highly enjoyable affair.—Pecora Star.

SENTIMENT REPORTED MORE FAVORABLE

SANGUINE FACTORS OFFSET RETARDING DEVELOPMENTS.

Winter Wheat Harvest Now Underway in Most Sections and is Equaling Expectations of a Heavy Production.

New York, June 20.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: Sentiment as distinguished from actual business is somewhat more favorable than heretofore. In this respect conservatively sanguine factors are sufficiently numerous to more than offset retarding developments. It is felt that stocks have been quite fully starved; that textile linen has probably had its changes; that crop prospects are certainly good enough to regard optimistically. Distribution of currency account is fairly active, retail trade has certainly been aided by warm weather and it is evident that trade in general is larger than it was at this time last year. Business failures for the week ending June 19 were 235, which compares with 268 in 1912. There were 24 failures in Canada.

Dun's Weekly Review.

Dun's Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say: Increased activity in retail distribution of seasonal merchandise due to the favorable weather, is reflected in a slightly improved demand in wholesale markets. The winter business quiet and price concessions to secure new orders are made by some producers. Dry goods jobbing houses are still operating conservatively.

It is estimated that July interest and dividend disbursement will exceed $263,000,000 as compared with $252,000,000.

BANK CLEARINGS.

New York, June 20.—Bradstreet's bank clearing report for the week ending June 19th, shows an aggregate of $3,285,218,000 as against $3,304,031,000 last week and $3,087,757,000 in the corresponding week last year.

STARTERS OF STREET PAVING.

If the writer is not mistaken it was just about the time that Capt. Philip Lee was in the city council, the second time, that he went up to Bloomington and noted the brick street paving being done there. It is to be remembered that for a long time, it was a doubtful question as to Jacksonville finding a paving material both good and cheap. Wooden blocks were a failure, stone was not at hand, so brick was our way out of the mud and into the speedways for cycles and autos, to say nothing of horses. Capt. Lee, first, probably, suggested the use here of brick for paving the street. Some time later it was taken up, and the miles we have today are one of the evidences of Mr. Lee's good judgment.

Mr. M. P. Ayers had the first piece of brick pavement laid about 1880 or 1884, between the Ayers bank and the Central Illinois bank, now Farrell's. About the time of this discussion and recognition of a need to get out of the mud, Wm. H. Hinrichsen was doing the city editorship of the Courier. He took up the demand "We must get out of the mud," and made such an insistent and persistent cry to that effect that the matter was taken up by the city and we see what we see.

But Philip Lee as suggester of brick paving, M. P. Ayers as demonstrator of its use, and Wm. H. Hinrichsen as demander of brick pavements, were the pioneers in one of the greatest public improvements we have had.

Miss Jennie Chilton was in the city yesterday on her way from the Greenfield convention to her home in Berlin.

BLAZE FRIDAY AT HOME OF MRS. MARY E. RANSON.

Fire of Unknown Origin Destroys Outbuildings—House Was in Danger.

Shortly after dinner Friday the roof of a meat house situated just back of the dwelling of Mrs. Mary E. Ranson of near Lynnville was found to be a mass of flames. Appeals for aid were made over the telephone and soon over fifty of the neighbors were at work with fire extinguishers and buckets. The buildings burned were the meat house, an ice house and a hen house. The favorable wind was all that saved the residence which was but ten feet from the source of the fire. As it was, the wall was burned through at one place and part of the contents of the pantry destroyed. It is not known how the fire originated.

The property burned was valued at over $300, all of which was covered by insurance. The meat house contained about two hundred pounds of meat; the other buildings were practically empty.

WILL OF HERMAN FREITAG FILED.

The will of the late Herman Freitag was filed Friday with County Clerk Boruff. Mr. Freitag provided for the payment of debts and then directed that all personal property, pass into the possession of his wife for life. Mrs. Freitag is also to have the use of the real estate owned by the deceased during her life time. After her death all the property real and personal is to be sold by the executors and after paying $200 to Edward Coyle son of Arnella Coyle then the remainder is to be divided equally among the nine children of the deceased. The children are Katherine Freitag, Rouse, William Freitag, Annie Crum, Charles Freitag, Eunice Henderson, Rose Henderson, Louis Freitag, Ernest Freitag, Amelia Coyle. The administrators of the will are Katherine Rouse and William Batz and the will was drawn May 12, 1910 and witnessed by Emma DeCamp and G. H. Bussey. The property includes three hundred of more acres of land in the vicinity of Arcadia and considerable personal property as Mr. Freitag had been a successful farmer.

Whooping Cough.

"I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy ever since I have been kept in house and I consider it one of the best medicines I have ever used. My children have all used it and it works like a charm for colds and whooping cough. In fact, I consider it good for any kind of a throat or lung trouble and do not think any household complete without it," writes L. C. Haines of Marbury, Ala. You will look a good while before you find a better preparation than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for colds and whooping cough in children. It contains no narcotic and is pleasant to take. For sale by all dealers.

ARRANGING FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION.

Nichols Park Board Making Preparations for Program.

Members of Nichols park board are making arrangements for a Fourth of July celebration at the park, which is to consist of band concerts both afternoon and evening and fireworks at night. Ample room will be provided to park automobiles and there will be plenty of room to hitch horses. There are also plenty of benches at the park and as it is an ideal place for picnic parties a large number of them are expected on that day. The band concerts will be given by Jeffries concert band and the fireworks display will commence about 8:30 o'clock that evening.

OLD TRAILS ROUTE THE MOST PRACTICAL.

Kansas City Real Estate Bulletin. It would not surprise The Bulletin should the Buffalo route be recognized as one of the main cross-state roads of Missouri, and its stands all the engineer tests, easy grades and directness to qualify as the Missouri section of the trans-continental highway. What the Buffalo route needs is concerted action of commercial clubs and kindred organizations of Missouri towns, co-operating with the Commercial club of Springfield, Ill., so that that city be placed on this great natural highway following a general scheme of joining all state capitals.

By running the trans-continental highway through the state capitals of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Kansas you build the road almost in an unbroken line through the richest corn belt in the world, the easiest grades, the most modern towns and up-to-date equipments in garage and hotel accommodations. It must not be overlooked also that by building the road through Springfield you move it eighty miles nearer the center of population of Illinois, eighty miles nearer Chicago, and eighty miles nearer the river towns and factories of the northern half of Illinois.

Chicago can get on the road at Springfield, the Iowa and Illinois river towns at Jacksonville, Ill., Louisiana, Mexico and Moberly, Mo. Hidden away in Missouri along rough river bottom the danger to Missouri would be the desire of the ocean to ocean highway and the hurdling of the entire state by a Chicago millionaire.

It is estimated that a touring auto crowd spends from $20 to $30 per day per machine. Let's figure: Two days in Missouri multiplied by $30, multiplied by 25,000 machines—good money, too. By all means, select the best ocean to ocean route through Missouri. Missouri loves company.

P. H. Daly.

PASSENGER IMITATES ST. PETER ON MEDITERRANEAN.

John Shadid of North Main street, a native Syrian, received Friday a copy of the Syrian weekly, "Al Marge," published in a small city near Beirut, which contains an account of a Mediterranean steamer passenger who suddenly became stricken with the idea that he was endowed with divine power, declared he would walk to shore and was almost drowned in the attempt. This modern imitator of St. Peter was traveling on the steamer St. Paul, bound from New York to points in Asiatic Turkey.

WORKING ON EXPERIMENTAL ROAD.

Under the direction of Mr. Watson, representing the Illinois highway commission the work of preparing the roadbed for the stretch of experimental stone highway on the North Main street road has commenced. J. W. Moon is serving as an assistant to Mr. Watson and as time keeper for the county. The gravel has not yet been received but it will be shipped as soon as the other work has progressed sufficiently.

THESE TWO YOUNG WOMEN

Tell How They Suffered and How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Their Health and Stopped All Pains.

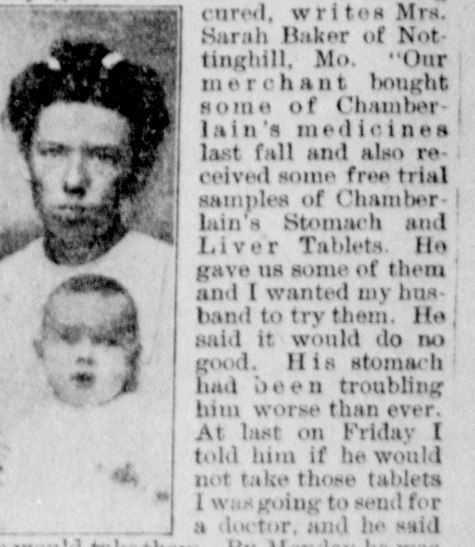

Zanesville, Ohio. — "I would have cramping spells, distressed feeling in the lower part of my back, headaches and was very irregular. After taking five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with Liver Pills for constipation, I felt well and strong and have no more female troubles. I hope every suffering woman will give your medicine a trial. I give you permission to publish what your remedies have done for me."—Mrs. ROY SIMMS, R. No. 6, Box 34, Zanesville, Ohio.

What Ten Dollars Did. Danville, Va. — "I have only spent ten dollars on your medicine and I feel so much better than I did when the doctor was treating me. I don't suffer any bearing down pains at all now and I sleep well. I cannot say enough for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills as they have done so much for me. I am enjoying good health now and owe it all to your remedies. I take pleasure in telling my friends and neighbors about them."—Mrs. MATTIE HALEY, 591 Colquhoun Street, Danville, Va.

How She Cured Her Husband. "For five years my husband suffered with his stomach. The medicine he took only gave relief for a while, nothing cured, writes Mrs. Sarah Baker of Nottingham, Mo. "Our merchant bought some of Chamberlain's medicines last fall and also received some free trial samples of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He gave us some of them and I wanted my husband to try them. He said it would do no good. His stomach had been troubling him worse than ever. At last on Friday I told him if he would not take those tablets I was going to send for a doctor, and he said he would take them. By Monday he was like another man. The blues were gone, no more trouble with his stomach, and the best part is that the trouble has not returned." Cannot praise Chamberlain's Tablets too highly.

SOME OFF-SIDE CHUTES

White Hope Al Palzer has been located. He is at Pelham, Minn., recuperating from an operation, and will return east about August 1 to take up light training.

Including Thursday's game at Chicago, Gavy Cravath has faced Cub pitchers fifteen times and garnered two swats. At this clip, the much-shunted Cravath will soon drop his title of chief swatter of the National league.

Arthur Pelkey is on trial at Calgary, Alta., for manslaughter in connection with the death of Luther McCarty May 24. He has been in training for a bout with "Gunboat" Smith to take place July 4 in San Francisco. In the event of his escape from a long term inside looking out of a Canadian penitentiary.

Helne Zimmerman, the battering ram of the Cubs, will receive a $100 bill from an admiring Hibernian fan if he is not canned by the umpires during the next fourteen days.

Dick Kinsella, scout for the Giants, has purchased, for $10,000, the release of "Pete" Schaner, the sensational Northern league pitcher, delivery to made August 15.

Ed. Walsh, the mainspring of the White Sox the past few years, is rounding to nicely just now and his best admirers look for a big brace in the team's standing as a result.

Already many followers of the sport are beginning to sit up at what is called the "Philadelphia" brand of enthusiasm. Philadelphia will put on tap in the event of both the home teams winning the National and American championships. There is little need to worry over Father Penn's enthusiasm. The Quakers have on several occasions won world's championships and as yet the Associated Press has not been called upon to take up the slack in its wires to chronicle their enthusiasm. Philadelphia slumbers—it refuses to enthuse.

Horse racing is again nearing its end at the tracks around New York. When the renewal of the historic Carter handicap was run two weeks ago at Belmont park, there was an attendance of 25,000. Since then the crowds have fell off a mere handful—1,300 attending last Monday. The speak-easy style of betting in vogue is not fashionable with the race-koer. The man upon the high stool with slate in hand is the only successful magnet in the betting ring—and Governor Sulzer has raised his hand and called a halt.

There is a mistaken idea among many fans that Otto Knabe is captain of the Philadelphia Nationals. It is true the pesky Otto is shabby enough to be captain of a dozen Philadelphia teams. But quiet Mike Doolan is the skipper at the helm of the National league leaders. When they are all in the line-up the "D" family control that Philadelphia team: Charley Doolan, manager and catcher; Mike Doolan, captain and shortstop; Cozy Doolan, general utility.

HARVARD CREWS CAPTURE ALL EVENTS ON THAMES

Varsity Eight-oared Crew Defeats Yale Over Four Mile Course by Eight Lengths.
Regatta Course, New London, June 20.—Harvard made a clean sweep of the Thames today, her varsity eight-oared crew defeating Yale over a four-mile course by eight lengths. Earlier in the day the Harvard varsity four won from Yale and later the freshman eight-oared crew was also captured by the crew from Cambridge.

Harvard's varsity eight covered the course in 21 minutes and 42 seconds, while Yale went over the racing lane in 22 minutes and 20 seconds. Harvard led the big race from start to finish and was never pressed. Fifty thousand people saw the two crews go over the course. The contest started at 3:46 and both crews held an even stroke for the first half mile. Harvard put her shell a full length to the fore within the first two minutes of contest. Yale increased her stroke, but fell constantly behind. Her stroke was uneven and there was constant splashing of her blades and sharp rowing to the clean cut machine-like rowing of the Cambridge crew.

After the first mile, where Harvard led by two lengths the two crews settled down and Yale kept slipping farther and farther behind. Two miles found Harvard with nearly a three length lead and the Harvard shouters on the observation trains were wild with joy. The powerful Harvard stroke had completely killed off Yale at the three mile flag and there was four lengths of open water between the two shells. Yale tried to rally, but failed. The killing pace was too much and her crew fell further and further behind. Near the finish Yale's crew was seen to be weakening and Harvard ran away from them, flashing over the finish line an easy eight lengths ahead.

The Yale men dropped their blades and some of them went while the cheers for the victors rang in their ears. The Harvard men finished in fine condition with plenty of reserve power.

MISSIONS AT ING HOK ARE DOING MUCH GOOD

WORK IS IN CHARGE OF RE. E. H. SMITH.

City is Typical Chinese Settlement and People Are Poor, Having Nothing to Sell and no Transportation Facilities.

(By S. W. Nichols)

The Work at Ing Hok.

The work at Ing Hok is in charge of Rev. E. H. Smith, a remarkable man in many ways. First we stopped at the school for girls, which numbers some seventy pupils and for a long time had been solely managed by a devoted and capable lady, Miss Chittenden, a person well up in the dreadful language and admirably fitted for the work. Miss Strang, who was with us, went to remain and help while she studied the language, as she had not been in the field more than a few months. Farther along is the main compound containing the residence of Mr. Smith, the boys' school and the church. In addition to managing the work with such native help as he can get Mr. Smith has charge of a large territory extending many miles and comprising a number of native churches, which he visits as opportunity permits and needs to add his life to truly strenuous. Few men could stand up under the heavy burden, yet he seems well and above all is happy in the work, though dreadfully handicapped by lack of means. His work is under the American Board and he is accomplishing much. The only other white persons in the place are a grand veteran, Dr. Whitney, who has been in the work almost fifty years, and has done immense good. He and his aged wife are still hale and hearty, but will soon have to give up and retire.

Ing Hok contains anywhere from ten to twenty thousand population and is like all Chinese places; narrow, crooked streets, shops open full side to the streets, all sorts of conditions, poverty and industry, idols and temples and the usual features of such places. We were there two days and they were indeed strenuous. I was called on for addresses to both schools and one evening Mr. Smith took me to talk to a club of men which has organized in the town among the different classes and it was one of the most pleasant evenings I have spent for some time. I talked about Mammoth cave at first and then permitted questions to be asked and several present wanted to know about the Holy Land and we remained till a late hour and departed with feelings of regret that we would not meet again.

The young men and the girls were also decidedly interesting. As the place is so cut off the world visitors are few and far between and the boys and girls were bright and eager to learn and never could get enough and were an ever ready source of pleasure.

The home of Mr. Smith is most beautifully situated. It is on the high bank of the river and the roar of the rapids lulls me to sleep in a charming manner. In the distance on every hand are grand mountains and from the verandah of his home one can look in all directions and see a charming prospect. He has a lovely wife and children—girls, aged respectively ten years, eight years and eight months. Their home is lovely and though so shut out from the world they are happy and contented, eager in carrying on the work and have no thought of hardship or privation.

The people are naturally poor, for they have little or nothing to sell and no way to get anything to market if they had. There are many kinds of fruit, but no sale for them and wood is about only thing they can dispose of and it has to be taken by boat to Foochow, which means hard work and small pay. Much of the work is done by hand and on the way up we saw some luckless fellows who had stuck on a hidden rock in the rapids. It is a pity that there are little or no timber, conservation laws in the country, for they are sorely needed. All kinds of supplies are tediously brought up by boat from below and when there is much of a load several men are needed. Camphor trees abound and grow without much attention if left alone. During the late war between Japan and Russia camphor was much in demand and one large camphor tree was sold for a thousand dollars gold and the purchaser took from it thirteen hundred dollars' worth of camphor. The trees grow in profusion and if intelligently cared for a great part of the world's supply could be secured here.

Tea is also cultivated to some extent and there is a tradition that the famous party in Boston harbor, when so much of the article went into the sea, had its supply from this province. The wood is laboriously carried down from the hills on the backs of coolies, as the only animals ever seen are a few water buffaloes used in preparing the land for rice, which is the principal crop, with sweet potatoes a second.

The height of our glory, if I may so call it, was reached one day when we took a long stroll over the mountains, going down on the opposite side and returning in the valley. Of course, as I said before, comparisons are odious, but such grand and beautiful as well as unique scenery I never saw before. I do not mean to say it successfully rivaled Switzerland, but it was unlike anything else I had ever seen. The mountains rose grandly, while beautiful valleys between them presented a wonderful spectacle. Perennial springs of water flowed down the sides of the declivities and the gorges and even the sides of the eminences themselves were terraced and green with rice fields, making the most unique and wonderful sight of the kind I had ever witnessed. The mountains were green to their tops, as they were not high enough to go above the timber line and often the terraces would extend to the summit, making one lost in wonder at the amount of labor that must have been bestowed on them.

Occasionally a man would be scratching his little patch with his water buffalo, while at other times we would see men sticking in the rice plants, for in China the grain is sown thickly in some spots and then transplanted in hills or rows a few inches apart and the ground must be a mush, covered with water. Once in a while we would meet coolies creeping down the hills bearing loads of wood, for that is the only method of transportation, and it made my back ache to see the poor fellows earning a living in such a way.

Up and up we climbed, all the while seeing scenery more and more enchanting, till it seemed as we could see no more. On the top of the highest peak we stood and with a field glass gazed into the valley below and with its terraces and streams it looked like a veritable series of lovely emeralds, varied with silver, as the water skipped from rock to rock, down the precipitous sides to the cliff. It was truly a spectacle never to be forgotten.

We went on over the other side a short distance and seeing a pleasant place under some trees we stopped to eat our lunch, which was in good demand after the long tramp. Not far away from us was a mountain village and as soon as an old woman saw us she hastened to look at such strange creatures as we were, for white faces are rarely if ever seen in that vicinity. She shouted back to the other villagers and soon we were surrounded by a gaping crowd, who stood right by and around us and talking rapidly in their wonder and seeming to enjoy the spectacle, but offering no trouble. They remained as long as we did and seemed sorry to have us leave. We returned by another way and passed a native church and met the pastor, who is doing all he can to sow the seed. We also passed a primitive mill, for they raise some wheat in that region and so carefully is the ground conserved that patches four feet square are planted where the side of the hill permit such an arrangement. The mill had the old fashioned two stones and was run by water power and an undershot wheel. A simple contrivance like an ordinary sieve did what bolting was done and that was all. One woman seemed to have charge and the produce looked alright.

We arrived home about dusk, having tramped some ten or fifteen miles and I felt a bit of complacency over the fact that I stood the walk with as little weariness as any one.

The Return.

Our return was undertaken with sincere regret, for it was hard to leave such friends, but it had to be. Were it not that I am making a truthful chronicle of our journey modestly would require me to say nothing about our departure, but it would be omitting an important part. Mr. and Mrs. Ewert were entertained in the buildings of the girls' school, a quarter of a mile down the river, while we were at the home of Mr. Smith. The girls had desired an address the morning of our departure, and those unusually early and hurried to their place and gave the talk as desired, but was warned especially to hasten back and not to wait down there for the boat, so I did as told. When we were ready to start for the landing we found the whole college had turned out to escort us and with the greatest demonstration we were sent off. The boys had firecrackers and cannoncrackers galore and made the welkin ring with their racket and we felt as if for once we were indeed very important, though not worthy of such a demonstration.

Of course the honors were divided between Mr. and Mrs. Christian and the other two members of our party, Henrietta and myself, and I so insisted, but our good friends accorded most of it to us. We stopped for Mr. and Mrs. Ewert and the girls honored them too with fireworks and away we floated in grand style.

Houseboats were not available, so we took two sampans, and riding together in the daytime and separating at night, leaving one boat for the ladies and one for the gentlemen.

Of course the ride down was much easier than the one up and was made without especial adventure. I would like to devote space to it, but will not. At one place we tied up and went up the mountain to a monastery, which was a grand affair, located near the top in an immense rocky cave. We reached home the second day out, delighted with the trip.

Economy Hints

A penny saved is a penny earned.—Benjamin Franklin.

How to Halve Household Bills.

There is no one thing alone which stands for economy. One must study the daily needs and be well acquainted with standard prices. There is much truth in the saying, "Where there is a will there is a way."

The cheaper cuts of meat are just as palatable when cooked properly. A tough round steak may be pounded well, sprinkled liberally with flour and seasoned well, after which it is ready for a hot frying pan. When cooked it is deliciously tender. Meat once a day is all that is necessary for any one, especially in summer. Baked macaroni with cheese is a good substitute.

When the oven is on it is well to get as much of the dinner in it as possible so as to save fuel. After the oven is well heated the back burner may be turned off and an even heat remains.

Splendid soups may be made by leftovers. Leftover vegetables with scraps of meat, to which a handful of rice is added, are very nutritious. This makes a fine soup. Scraps of bread are saved and either ground for bread for dressings. Plenty of homemade bread is better than too much cake and pastry and is certainly cheaper.

After all, the high cost of living is a matter which can be controlled by the individual. It is not so much the amount eaten as the amount wasted that makes household bills soar so high.

DESTRUCTIVE INSECTS.

How to Battle With Cabbage and Other Plant Lice.

No time should be lost in destroying weeds and insects. It is labor that must not be neglected. Insects are easily controlled if the work is begun in time.

There are two kinds of insects—the biting and the sucking species. To the biting kind belong the Colorado potato bug, beetle, cutworms, etc., which devour a portion of the plant. The sucking insects belong to the family of plant lice that secure their food from the juice of the plant, sucking it through their slender beaks.

Some internal poison, such as paris green or arsenate of lead, must be used to destroy the biting insects, while a solution that kills by contact, such as kerosene emulsion or tobacco decoction, must be used for the sucking species.

Cabbage and other plant lice are best controlled by spraying with kerosene emulsion, using the 15 per cent solution—a solution containing 15 per cent of kerosene. If the lice are on trees, flowers or rosebushes tobacco decoction may be used with good results. The tobacco decoction is made by taking three pounds of tobacco stems and five gallons of water and boiling for two hours. It is used without diluting, but must not be applied too hot.

If treatment is begun in time plant lice can be controlled. It must be done before the leaves are curled so the spray cannot reach the pests. There should be several sprayings, four or five days apart, as one spraying will not completely do the work. Clean culture is important in fighting these insects, as with many others.

How to Keep Buttons.

Some housewives save all their pill and lozenge boxes to hold small buttons, and they fasten a sample button to the top of each box. This is a good plan, but not quite so good as one big box having compartments. Into one compartment put the pearl buttons, into another put the bone ones, and still another put the cloth covered buttons, and so on. It takes no more time to put a stray button into its proper compartment than to drop it into a box of miscellaneous buttons, and to find the said button when one is in a hurry is hardly a moment's work, which is quite a different proposition from getting it out of a big box filled with all sorts and conditions of buttons.

How to Care For Auto Radiators. Radiators on old cars, which are not provided with flexible connections to protect them from the effects of frame distortion, frequently can be rendered less prone to spring a leak if a pad of thick rubber matting be inserted between the bottom of the radiator itself and its cradle on the frame. The experiment is easily tried and, whatever its other effect, has the merit of reducing much of the vibration to which the radiator otherwise will be subjected.

How to Darn Table Linen.

Stretch the article smooth and tight in embroidery hoops. Remove the presser foot from the sewing machine, loosen the tension, slip the hoops under the needle and without turning the hoops sew back and forth until the hole is really filled. Then turn the hoops and proceed in the same manner across the stitching already put in. The result is gratifying.

How to Use Cheesecloth.

Cheesecloth makes good strainers, dust cloths, polishers for furniture or shoes, is excellent to tie over milk crocks and fruit jars and makes dainty curtains and comforters.

THE CARE OF THE HORSE IN SUMMER

HOW HE SHOULD BE CARED FOR DURING HEATED TERM.

Fly Precautions and Preventions in the Stable—The Crucialities of the Check-Rein and Overcheck-Rein—Care to be Given Against Over Heating.

By Donald McIntosh, Professor of Veterinary Science.

The horse is the best friend man has and without the horse he could not have accomplished what he has toward civilization. The horse has been the great helper of man in peace and war. He is naturally kind and intelligent and is very easily trained to do almost anything one wants him to do. The numerous faults that are attributed to him are the result of the harsh treatment he usually gets. The Arab of the desert understands the value of his horse, appreciates his noble nature, and treats him accordingly. An anecdote is told by the Rev. V. Monroe of a very poor Arab who had a beautiful mare for which he was offered a large sum of money which he agreed to take, but after looking at the money, then at the mare, he said: "To whom am I going to yield this up—to Europeans, who will tie the close, who will beat thee, who will render thee miserable. Return with me my beauty, my darling, my jewel, and rejoice the hearts of my children." As he pronounced these words he sprang upon her back and scampered off toward the desert. The Arab spoke the truth, too many Europeans and Americans do the up, beat, jerk and make the poor horse miserable and it is to call the attention of these people how to treat their horses, especially in summer, that this article is written.

Stable Should Have Screens.

During fly time the stable should have wire screens on the doors and windows so that the animal could be free from the torment of flies for at least part of the time, and a net should be put on the animal, as some people do, when it is at work, which will help to keep the flies off its sides and back. The horse should not be checked, either by the check-rein or overcheck-rein. This is what the Arab meant when he said: "He will tie the up and make thee miserable." The overcheck-rein should never be used on any horse. It is nothing more than a torture to the animal and is great cruelty and is unnecessary and unsightly. The head is drawn up where nature did not intend that it should be. According to anatomy there is a muscle called the sterno-thyro-hyoid, which extends from the breast to the bone of the tongue and the thyroid cartilage of the larynx. The use of this muscle is to draw down the bone of the tongue and with it the larynx and base of the tongue. The overcheck-rein keeps this muscle constantly on the strain, pulling on the base of the tongue and the throat of the poor animal and the bit fixed to the overcheck-rein is a very uncomfortable thing to have in the mouth.

Cruelty of Overcheck-Rein.

The horse would surely be saved much suffering if every humane person would consider for a moment how he would like to have his head strapped up for hours at a time and then being faced the sun and if he closed his eyes to protect them from the sun would stumble and then be whipped. Again, how he would like to have his head tied up and be tormented by flies biting his face and getting into his eyes and have no way of knocking them off. The overcheck-rein, especially in summer, torments the animal a great deal more than galled shoulders and lame feet.

It is a common thing for some people to tie up their horse to a post and go away for hours, leaving the animal checked up, facing the hot sun in summer, and the cold wind in winter. This should never be done.

Another very cruel practice is jerking the horse's mouth when the animal is frightened or shies at some objects that it is not used to, also lashing the horse with the whip. Another bad practice is calling out with a cross voice, frightening the animal, unnecessarily. These are all very cruel, as well as being bad training for a horse. Instead of jerking and whipping, if the driver had any sense of knowledge of the horse's intelligence, he would get out of the wagon or carriage and speak kindly to him, pat him on the face and neck, and lead him up to the object and let him see what it is and that it will not hurt him. If this were done a few times the animal would get used to the object and would not be afraid, but when he is jerked and whipped he has no conception of why he is made to suffer and the next time he gets frightened he will remember the jerking and whipping and the two things will make him more afraid each time he shies.

In hot weather, when the horse is at work or driven, when he gets too hot, he should be rested for a short time and be given a drink of water. This will refresh him, as it does a man. When the animal comes from work or a long drive on a hot day, he should be put in a shady place, but not in a draft, and when cooled grass be given him, and when cooled off he should be given water, and then his usual feed, or be turned out to grass. A great many horses are soiled for want of a little care at this time, if they are tired.

THE LIMITATION OF STREAM POLLUTION

Pollutions of Water Has Serious Results—Proper Method of Purification.

By Paul Hansen, Engineer, State Water Survey.

Many of our important industries, such as paper mills, woolen mills, dye works, starch factories, tanneries and others require large volumes of water to carry on their industrial operation and also produce large volumes of waste which are capable of undergoing offensive putrefaction. The discharge of these wastes into streams often causes unsightly and malodorous conditions, yet without the public health since they do not contain the specific infections of disease. (Tannery wastes may contain anthrax bacilli). In fact some of the processes are such that the wastes are quite inimicable to the existence of disease germs. In some cases it is practicable to treat the wastes so that offensive conditions in a stream may be in part or wholly removed, but for some industries such treatment of the wastes is prohibitively expensive. Enjoining industries from causing objectionable stream pollution may, and in some instances actually has, necessitated the shutting down of works. It is conceivable, in the case of large industries upon which are dependent a considerable population, that an order to cease stream pollution which is virtually an order to shut down the works might result in great hardship without adequate returns accruing from the cleaner condition of the stream. There are reasons, therefore, why a limited few of the streams of the country may legitimately be turned over to the manufacturing interests. Now that the stream pollution problem has become more acute an issue and the disadvantages of filthy streams is better understood it would not seem warranted to permit new waste producing industrial plants to be located upon any but very large streams which have an ample volume to dilute the wastes to an inoffensive condition. That is to say the streams which are now clean should be maintained clean for the reason that we have an ample number of large streams which can effectually take care of wastes from waste producing plants for an indefinite period in the future.

The Small Community and the Small Stream.

One of the most troublesome class of problems encountered by state authorities having supervision over stream pollution is that of the small town on a small stream which desires to install a sewage system. By small towns are meant those that have a population of 10,000 and under. For health reasons it is quite important that such towns be encouraged to install sewerage. Probably one of the greatest causes of the continued prevalence of typhoid fever and intestinal derangements in small communities and rural districts is the outdoor privy. Anything that will tend to the elimination of these fecal for the spread of disease by insects and by other means should be strongly urged by all health authorities. On the other hand if the installation of a sewerage system must be accompanied by the installation of expensive sewage purification works the project is very often defeated. Again, supposing purification works are to be installed it is, practically, extremely difficult to secure in small towns proper operation thereof unless they are constantly under supervision if some central supervisory authority with unusual mandatory powers and large appropriation.

It sometimes happens that purification works must be insisted upon despite the above difficulties in order to adequately protect some public water supply taken from a point on the stream below. In such a case, supervision of some central authority combined by constant threats of damage suits on the part of lower communities results in fairly successful operation of the sewage purification plant, especially of the latter is of a design that involves no serious operation difficulties. There is another condition under which installation of purification works must of necessity be demanded and one under which there is likely to be obtained reasonably successful operation, namely, when riparian owners below require a stream in a reasonably clean condition for certain industrial or farm purposes and are in a position to secure damages whenever the purification works are not being properly controlled.

There are a number of cases, however, in which the stream is a small one, sure to be grossly contaminated by the discharge of sewage there in; and yet endangers no water supply and flows through a valley in which there are few or no habitations so that the pollution is not at all likely to give rise to complaint. A strict adherence to the principle of maintaining streams in a clean condition would dictate the installation of sewage purification works regardless of these facts, but to the writer this appears to be one of those practical conditions which necessitates a deviation from broad general principles in that the requirement of sewage purification must be waived under such time as best interests demand the reclamation of the stream's purity.

A horse treated kindly is always the more safe animal and the one more to be relied upon in every place and under all circumstances.

POSSIBILITIES OF THE OLD FASHIONED GARDEN

HOW FLOWERS CAN BE KEPT FROM MAY UNTIL FROST.

Immediate Results Can be Secured From Perennial Borders Begun in July—The Fruits of a Perennial Garden are Cut Blossoms for the House Every Day.

The woman in the country can have beautiful flowers from May until frost for her garden and for her living rooms from the old fashioned perennial borders.

In these days of large estates, laid out by landscape architects, and cared for by a host of gardeners, the woman in the country is apt to feel that she, too, must have such expensive plantings, if she would beautify her grounds or decorate her home.

Nothing is farther from the truth. If she has the means she can afford to have a landscape architect lay out her estate and then keep it up, she has wonderful possibilities before her. If she does not have these facilities, however, she can obtain advice from agricultural colleges in regard to laying out her grounds simply and with little expense, and can provide herself with a beauty suited to her surroundings.

Immediate results, however, can be secured from perennial borders begun in July of each year, and showing results the next summer. Perennials come up each year, thus do-flowers and for garden effect, because of ease of culture, are larkspurs, columbine, clove pink, calliopsis (brown eyed Susan), pyrethrum (golden Feather), and fox glove. Hollyhocks can be grown for a background and phlox for tall effects, and clove pink for borders. Calliopsis, larkspur, fox glove and columbine arrange well in tall vases for the library and living room table; clove pink and golden feather arrange well in bowls or short vases. The first spring, sow annuals to fill up the empty spaces and to provide brilliant colors. Cornflower, asters, hardy chrysanthemum, cosmos, verbena, and nasturtiums, all are suitable for cut flowers and have bright colors in midsummer and late fall.

How to Prepare Such a Border.

A woman should plan to have a border about 30-40 feet long and 4-5 feet wide along a fence, or shorter borders along the front and sides of the house. She can care for this amount of garden herself, and after the plants are raised and set out, she can have the children do the watering, weeding and cultivating. The chief care comes in starting the border, but care is rewarded by very satisfactory results. Since the garden is to last for four or five years, the ground should be well spaded and manured to provide plant food and hold moisture.

How to Raise Perennial Plants.

In the spring, or in July, prepare a bed about four feet square in a sheltered place in the garden. Screen the soil and add sand to make the mixture porous. Fertilizer or manure is not necessary to grow young seedlings. Mark out rows about one and one-half to two inches apart and sow seed at a depth equal to three or five times the diameter of the ing away with the necessity of spading up a garden every spring. They provide bloom in early spring before annuals begin to blossom and give an unusual amount of cut flowers for vases and baskets.

The fruits of a perennial garden are cut flowers for the house. Few people realize the importance of cutting flowers as they appear. If a plant is allowed to go to seed, it stops blooming. The clever woman then will prolong the blooming season and use the flowers to beautify her home, thus bringing her garden indoors, where she spends most of her time. Inexpensive baskets and vases can be purchased at department stores for ten to thirty cents, and provide suitable and beautiful receptacles for flowers.

The best plants to grow for cut seed. Cover fine seeds, like foxglove, very lightly.

Protect from the direct rays of the sun with newspaper or cheese cloth, which should be removed at night. A screen of laths to protect from the sun and heavy rains is excellent. This can be made by tacking laths to boards about one inch in thickness and one to two feet high. Keep the seed bed and seedlings moist all the time. Water carefully with a sprinkling can, never with a hose. Keep the ground loose and free from weeds. In about four weeks the plants will be ready to transplant in the border, and should become well established before frost. Cover lightly with manure to protect from frost.

The cost of seed from seven varieties need not exceed 50 to 75 cents,

VALUE OF POTASSIUM ON PEATY SWAMP LAND

EFFECTS SHOWN IN TESTS ON EXPERIMENTAL FIELDS.

Action of Potassium in Its Beneficial Effect is Thought in Some Cases to be Indirect Rendering Other Elements Available Rather than Serving as a Needed Plant Food—In Other Cases Its Action Seems to Serve Both Purposes.

By Delos L. James, Agricultural Adviser, in McHenry County Papers.

In a series of tests on the University of Illinois soil experiment fields in which a complete fertility test consisting of trials with applications of the elements, nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium singly and in possible combinations, decided results were obtained which showed the effect of the different elements. Nitrogen in the form of dried blood, 12 to 14 per cent nitrogen, was added at the rate of 800 pounds per acre, which would furnish nearly enough nitrogen for a 100 bushel crop of corn. If the nitrogen gave a decided increase in the crop over that of the untreated plot then it would be evident that more nitrogen was needed in the soil and that it could be supplied by growing leguminous crops. But such was not the case, as no ear corn was produced by the nitrogen treatment. In another plot to which steamed bone meal, 12 1/2 per cent phosphorus, was applied at the rate of 200 pounds per acre, furnishing enough phosphorus for a 100 bushel crop of corn, no increase in yield of ear corn was obtained, a slight increase in stover being produced.

Potassium Gives Results.

The potassium was applied in the form of potassium chloride, 42 per cent potassium. About 200 pounds were applied the first year with a yearly application of 100 to 200 pounds depending on whether the entire crop is removed or not. If the stalks are left on the field a 100 pound application would be sufficient. The return from the plot receiving potassium was 36.3 bushels of ear corn with a very decided increase in the amount of stover. Lime was also applied to all plots, but produced no beneficial effect, showing that its application was not necessary.

The plot receiving nitrogen and phosphorus produced no ear corn, but the plot which received nitrogen and potassium gave a yield of 40 bushels and the one receiving phosphorus and potassium produced a yield of 37.5 bushels. From the plot in which all three elements were applied a yield of 52.5 bushels was obtained. From this will be seen that every plot receiving potassium gave a good yield, while no ear corn was produced on the plots not receiving the potassium.

Straw Proves Beneficial.

In a series of experiments under the direction of the Indiana station straw was applied about three inches thick. To another plot straw and kainit was applied and to a third kainit and lime. The plot treated with the 5-inch layer of straw gave a yield of 44 bushels per acre. That treated with Kainit and lime gave about 54 bushels, the lime probably correcting the acidity which this soil possessed. Coarse farmyard manure also greatly increases the productivity of these soils, but because of its containing as much nitrogen as potassium, and the peaty soil containing large amounts of nitrogen, it then is impracticable to apply farm manure to such soil when it needs only potassium. If the supply of farm manure is abundant, it should be applied to the peaty soils, but in nearly all cases the supply of farm manure is limited, and it is better practice and more economical to purchase commercial potassium for peaty soils.

As to the exact action of the potassium in its beneficial effect no one can say. It is thought in some cases that its action is indirect, rendering other elements available, rather than serving as a needed plant food, and in other cases its action would seem to serve both purposes. Some peaty soils are underlain with clay subsoils from six inches to three feet below the surface, and such subsoils almost always contain a large supply of K, it being associated with clay. The improvement of such soils as these may be accomplished by getting the clayey subsoil mixed with the peaty top soil. This can be done by deep plowing, and enough potassium having been obtained in the surface soil, will give the crops a start and as soon as the roots have reached the clay subsoil plenty of potassium may then be obtained to produce a large crop.

and from this amount of seed, plants can be raised which would cost $18 to $20 if bought from the florist or seedhouse. Buy seeds from the catalogs of well established seed houses, because the seed is more apt to come true to color and to be more reliable. The clever woman can make pin money by raising plants for neighbors. Florists charge from 50 cents to $1 a dozen for such plants.

As with everything else, "Well begun is half done." Most of the trouble comes at the beginning, but in the end lasting results and a beautiful garden will compensate for time and care, and the woman who devotes her time to such a garden will be rewarded by the pleasure of having a satisfactory garden admired by friends in family.

COUNTY ADVISERS HOLD CONFERENCE AT COLLEGE

Met June 5 at College of Agriculture—Are All Graduates of Agricultural Colleges.

On Thursday, June 5, six men recently appointed county advisers in Illinois, met in conference at the college of agriculture. The following men were present: Wm. C. Eckhardt, DeKalb county; John S. Collier, Kankakee county; Kankakee; E. T. Robbins, Tazewell county, Washington; Roy C. Bishop, Livingston county; Pontiac; E. B. Heaton, DuPage county; Wheaton; J. E. Readhimer, Kane county, Geneva.

Two other advisers were unable to be present, Mr. Delos James of McHenry county, and Mr. F. C. Grannis of Will county.

The advisers spent the forenoon visiting the experiment fields, dairy barns, etc., and the afternoon in conference with the men of the agricultural college.

It is an interesting fact that the entire eight men are graduates of agricultural colleges, with one exception and he has completed the work and is ready for the degree. Six are from the University of Illinois, one from the University of Missouri, and one from the Iowa state college.

KERNELS FROM THE CORNBELT.
(By Sol E. Quizer).

It takes mighty little work to make drudges out of some folks.

Si Larkins is such a scientific dairyman he says he can tell by the tinkle of the stream against the milk bucket just how much butter fat an old cow is giving up.

Tootin' your own horn will never plow your corn.

The rooster climbed down from his roost.

"It is time I was starting to boost. The hens lay the eggs, to be sure. Yet his barnyard would quickly be poor. Were it not for someone to boost."

WILL CONTINUE CORN-BELTER THROUGH SUMMER MONTHS

Articles Prepared by County Advisers of State Should Be of Interest to Every Reader.

It is the intention to continue the Corn Belter through the summer months. We have just arranged with the county advisers of the state, whereby articles prepared by them will be published in the Corn Belter. These men are scientifically trained and will be in everyday contact with the problems of farm life; therefore, what they have to say should be of interest to the readers of the Corn Belter.

FOR ARKANSAS GOVERNORSHIP.

Little Rock, Ark., June 20.—After one of the timest political campaigns Arkansas has known in years the Democrats will engage in a state primary election tomorrow to select a candidate for governor to succeed Joe T. Robinson, who resigned to accept election to the United States senate. There are but two candidates for the nomination, former Congressman Stephen Brundidge, Jr., of Seary, and Judge G. W. Hayes of Camden.

OREGON SPANISH WAR VETS.

Eugene, Ore., June 20.—Eugene is entertaining for two days the annual encampment of the department of Oregon, United Spanish War Veterans. The opening of the encampment today found the city elaborately decorated for the occasion. Delegations of veterans and their friends are here from Portland, Pendleton, Vancouver and a number of other cities where local camps are located.

From the large increase in crops produced by the addition of potassium to peaty swamp lands it will readily be seen that it is an article of real value to the farmer, a fact which he, too, often does not realize and that often brings to many farmers an enormous loss each year. The commercial value of potassium is six cents a pound for the element in soluble form. It may be purchased in the form of potassium chloride, 42 per cent potassium, potassium sulfate, 40 per cent potassium, or kainit, a crude produce from the mines, containing 10 per cent potassium; a ton of potassium chloride can be purchased for about $50, which will furnish about 840 pounds of potassium. A 100 bushel crop of corn requires 71 pounds of potassium, 19 in grain and 52 in stover, besides the small amount in the roots. From this it will be seen that 200 pounds of potassium chloride will supply just about enough potassium for a 100 bushel crop of corn, providing both grain and stover are removed, but if only the grain is removed, then only 19 pounds of potassium are removed by the crop, the larger portion being left for the next crop. This also shows very conclusively that the cost of the potassium is small as compared with the enormous yield which it produces—19 pounds potassium at 6 cents, as compared with 100 bushels at 40 cents.

SEEK ADVICE ON FARM MANAGEMENT

FARM MANAGEMENT DIVISION OF UNIVERSITY RECEIVES MANY INQUIRIES.

Great Many Factors Important From the Standpoint of Making the Farm Business Pay Must be Carefully Studied Before Any Advice Can be Given.

B. W. F. Handschin, Animal Husbandry, University of Illinois.

(Sometimes the clear statement of a problem is a long step toward its solution. Mr. Handschin in the following article clears up a number of points.)

The constantly increasing number of inquiries coming to the farm management division of the University of Illinois, emphasizes unceasingly the importance of investigational work along this line. The inquiries vary greatly in character, and usually cover a number of subjects. A few rather typical ones follow:

"I have an 80 acre farm which I have just purchased for $16,000, paying $11,000 cash and $5,000 on a long time mortgage loan at 6 per cent interest. The farm is good level corn belt land, and is located two miles from a town of 1,200. Twenty acres are in pasture, paddocks, orchard and farmland. I have 4 head of horses 2 cows, and about 40 hogs. I also have a good outfit of general farm machinery, tools and equipment. How would you advise planning this farm? What class of livestock and about how much of each should this farm be able to carry when built up to a good state of productivity? In fact what general system shall I establish, with a fair chance to make it a success financially, and also keep the fertility of the soil?"

An Ohio farmer writes: "Will you please send me a plan for profitably operating 170 acres of productive land. I have the option of paying a cash rent of $6 per acre, or one-half of the grain delivered. Rent on pasture and meadow to be $5 per acre. I have had experience in feeding cattle and hogs."

These are fair samples of a great variety of inquiries; some stating in great detail the system of production employed or contemplated, perhaps enclosing a detailed map of the farm, or even the farmstead; others giving practically no detail as to the general nature, location and other important points concerning the farm, nor the experience, qualification and inclinations of the farm operator.

It will no doubt never be possible to lay down rules or make plans that will fit every case, from a farm management standpoint; just as it is impossible to prescribe practices that will never need modification in any other line.

Further investigations, however, should help to establish certain general principles which will apply to all farms employing general systems of production. For example the best relation of the amounts of money invested in the various classes of farm property; the general relation between the number of work horses necessary and the number of crop acres should be worked out. The size of farm best adapted to the various types of production. And a great many other factors, of really great importance from the standpoint of making the farm business pay, should be carefully studied. At the present time little definite data is at hand, and any advice given must be based on general experience and some, but far too little, available data.

CENTRAL A.A.U. CHAMPIONSHIPS

Chicago, June 20.—All preparations have been concluded for the Central A. A. U. annual outdoor track and field championships, which will be decided tomorrow on the athletic field of Northwestern university at Evanston. The entry list shows a strong array of star performers representing the colleges and clubs of the middle states. The program will be made up of the following events: One hundred yard dash, 220 yard dash, 440 yard run, half mile and two mile runs, 120 high and 220 yard low hurdles, the running high jump, running broad jump, shot put, hammer throw, discus and pole vault.

WEST VIRGINIA'S JUBILEE.

Wheeling, W. Va., June 20.—The West Virginia semi-centennial celebration reached its climax today, which is the 50th anniversary of the creation of the state during the storm and stress of the civil war. The celebration festivities centered in this city and included parades, military reviews, historical exercises and numerous other features. The orations of the principal speakers were communicated to all the leading cities and towns of the state by telephone.

EDITORS AT GRAND FORKS.

Grand Forks, N. D., June 20.—The question of "patent or home print" was exhaustively discussed here today at the annual meeting of the North Dakota Editorial Association. The North Dakota publishers have been waging a fight for some time against the placing of advertising on the so-called "patent" or "inside" pages of their papers by the companies furnishing them. More than 100 of the newspapers have adopted "home print" exclusively.

THE WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

STOCK MARKET

DRIFTS DOWNWARD
FORCE OF RECENT UPTURN
SEEMS TO HAVE SPENT IT-SELF.

Although the Market Occasionally Rallied, Gains Were Not Held and the Close Was Not Far From the Lowest.

(By Associated Press)
New York, June 20.—By slow and easy stages the stock market again drifted downward today. The force of the recent upturn seemed entirely to have spent itself and the small offerings were sufficient to make further inroads on the gains which followed last week's severe break.

The rise in prices has made stocks less attractive to prospective investors especially in view of the unusually large returns now being offered on new bonds and short notes. At the same time the market is no longer receiving the benefit of supporting orders from large financial interests, such as it was deemed necessary to extend during the troubled days of the last week. Canadian Pacific, Lehigh Valley, Smelting and Interborough preferred were the weak spots in the list. Although the market occasionally rallied, gains were not held and the close was not far from the lowest, declines ranging from fractions to two points.

While much study was given to the proposals for currency reform as tentatively incorporated in the bill given out at Washington, bankers were inclined to reserve their opinion. Publication of the bill apparently had no influence on the stock market. The bond market was heavy. Total sales per value $1-474,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

CROP IN GOOD CONDITION

Arrival of First Car of Wheat From the New Crop in Chicago Had Sentimental Effect on Bears—
Prospects of General Rains Made
Corn Market Weak.

(By Associated Press.)
Chicago, June 20.—Belief that rains had fallen at the right time for the greater part of the spring crop brought about an easy feeling today in the wheat pit. Closing prices varied from 3c decline to 3c gain.
Corn showed a fall of 1/4c to 1/2c, and oats a setback of 1/4c to 1/2c.
There was an irregular finish in provisions ranging from 1/2c off to an advance of a shade. Wheat traders with few exceptions inclined to the view that barring some portions of South Dakota the spring sown fields were now in good shape. Timely moisture for the final filling of winter wheat in Nebraska tendered also to favor the bears. The fact that the first car of wheat from the new crop arrived here this morning, had too, some sentimental effect.

Good support at a moderate decline prevented any decided break in wheat.
Prospects of general rains thoroughout the chief producing states made the corn market weak.
Some of the recent large longs went over to the short side. Oats succumbed to heavy selling due to an expected drenching of the country east of the Mississippi.

HANDS CRACKING AND BLEEDING

With Eczema, Watery Blisters, Disfigured and Sore. Could Not Put Them in Water, Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

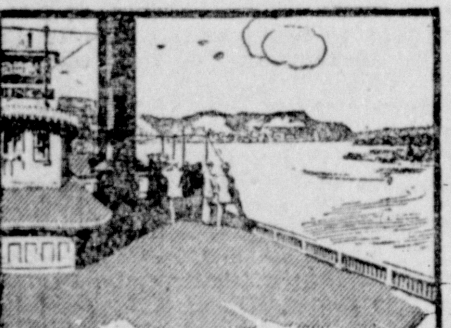

St. Clair, Mo.—"My trouble began about fifteen years ago. It was what some called eczema. The form the disease worked under was a breaking out with watery blisters on my hands which would then dry and scale, and then would follow the trouble of cracking and bleeding, also itching and hurting. My hands were disfigured at the time, and sore. The trouble was very annoying, and disturbed my sleep. This last February it was ever so much worse than before. I did not do all my work on account of the condition of my hands. I could not put them in water without making them worse. I tried a lot of home remedies, also salves and liniments that claimed to be a cure for the trouble, but I did not obtain a cure.

"At last I saw the advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent for a sample. I thought they would cure, so I sent for a fifty-cent box of Cuticura Ointment and some Cuticura Soap. A doctor advised me to keep ahead with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they cured me completely. No trace of the trouble remains." (Signed) Mrs. Mary Taylor, Mar. 29, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

For the Children

Happy Young Bather on the Beach at Rockaway.

With the return of the summer sun the various beaches in the vicinity of New York are thronged with young and old enjoying a dip in the surf. After Coney Island, Rockaway Beach is the most popular seaside resort. Here any day during the summer may be seen hundreds of little ones playing in the sand. Trainloads of the poor children from the east side are taken daily to Rockaway, where they are provided with lunches. Some of them are kept for a week's outing, there being several large charitable institutions at the beach that provide accommodations. The youngster in the picture is making the most of his opportunity and, if expression counts for anything, is having a good time. The photo man caught him just as he came out of the water.

The Bird Catcher.

This is good fun for children, and even those of larger growth have been known to take part in it.

You must first decide which one is to be the bird catcher. The others each choose the name of a bird, but no one must choose the owl, as it is forbidden. All of the players then sit in a circle with their hands on their knees except the bird catcher, who stands in the center and tells a tale about birds, taking care to mention the ones he knows have been chosen by the company.

As each bird's name is spoken the owner must imitate its note as well as he can, but when the owl is named all hands must be put behind the chairs in silence and remain there until the next bird's name is mentioned.

When the bird catcher cries "all the birds" the players must altogether give their imitations of the various birds they have chosen. Should any player fail to give the cry when his bird is named or forget to put his hands behind his chair when the owl is mentioned he has to change places with the bird catcher.

Lawn Bubble Party.

A tennis net is desirable for this amusement. The net may be decorated with flags or ribbons or colored paper, just to add to its gay appearance. Girls range themselves on one side of the net, boys on the other, or they may play as partners.

The hostess provides a bowl of soapy water, to which a tablespoonful of glycerin is added to contribute to the beauty of the prismatic colors, and clay pipes tied with ribbons, the color determining the sides.

The girls blow the bubbles, and the boys blow them over the net from their side to prevent the airy balls from floating into their domain. Each bubble that succeeds in floating over the net counts fifteen points for the side from which it came.

Competition may take other forms, as the largest bubble, the one retaining its form the longest or the longest chain of bubbles winning a prize. Or, ornamental pipes, fancy soap boxes filled with bonbons and similar trifles are suitable for prizes.

Great Shadows.

From the summit of Mount Diablo, in California, may be seen a curious phenomenon. Four times a year—once every three months—the sun rises at such an angle that a shadow over ten miles long is thrown on the plain beneath. The peak of Tenerife projects a huge shadow, stretching upward of fifty miles across the deep and partly eclipsing the adjoining isles.

Mother Goose Riddle.

Black we are, but much admired;
Men seek for us till they are tired.
We tire the horse, but comfort men.
Tell me this riddle if you can.
Answer.—Coals.

EDUCATION NOTES.

With its newly established bureau of mines, the University of Arizona hopes to aid materially in the development of mining and other industries of the state.

Using the library as a social center, with study clubs and other activities, including a gymnasium, is the method taken by Homestead, Pa., to demonstrate that a library need not be merely a "mausoleum of books."

The distinction of having the best paid one-room country school teacher in the United States is claimed by Logan county, Illinois, which pays its teacher $110 per month for a term of nine months.

Through its extension division the University of Kansas will give courses of lectures on moral education in a number of the largest cities of the state during the fall of 1913.

School lunches are served free or at nominal cost to elementary school children in 41 American cities, 200 English, 150 German, and 1,200 French communities, according to C. F. Langworthy, chief of nutrition investigations, at Washington.

Thanks to the wide-awake leadership of men and women, especially women, interested in the schools, a number of Southern communities are making a winning fight against illiteracy. Wilkes county, North Carolina, for instance, reports, together with other notable indications of school betterment, the fact that illiteracy decreased from 13 per cent in 1900 to 2 per cent in 1912.

In the belief that rich ballad material still lies hidden in Virginia and other sections of the south, Prof. C. Alphonso Smith, of the University of Virginia, is hunting down all possible versions of old English ballads. The government has appointed Professor Smith a collaborator of the Bureau of Education in order to give national aid to the work.

"For first-year pupils only" is the motto of the Parker High School at Dayton, Ohio. The object of this school is to carry boys and girls over the difficult "freshman" period. Supt. Painter has recently put into the hands of every eighth-grade pupil in Dayton a booklet describing the purpose and value of a high school education with special reference to the advantages of the Parker First-Year High School.

Canada is appropriating money liberally for school purposes, according to Miss Anna Tolman Smith of the United States Bureau of Education. "The older provinces, like the long-settled states of the union," says Miss Smith, "are readjusting their systems of public education to the new conditions growing out of modern industrial life; while the newer provinces are striving to build up adequate systems that shall include the best of the old and new in education."

The spirit of the new country life was fittingly celebrated in the pageant just held at Meriden, N. H., in connection with the hundredth anniversary of Kimball Union academy. Besides portraying the history of the town and school, the pageant symbolized particularly the school's purpose in the new country-life movement: "To prepare the young people of the surrounding agricultural regions for the life they are to lead, and to train them to make life on the farm a high source of joy, culture and inspiration for fine citizenship."

HOWLANDS QUIT THE OUTLOOK.

New York, June 20.—The Howland element in the management of the Outlook is out. William B. Howland, vice president and publisher; Karl C. S. Howland, treasurer; and Harold J. Howland, a department head, moved their desks and personal belongings from the publication offices last Saturday.

The reason for their departure has not yet been told. The Howlands were big stockholders in the Outlook company. It has been reported that elder Howland, at least, will become associated with the Independent in an important executive capacity.

Efforts to gain an explanation from the Outlook were unavailing. None of the Abbotts in the Outlook management could be seen. Col. Theodore Roosevelt contributing editor, was not expected in during the day, it was said.

HAVE RETURNED FROM CONVENTION.

Dr. Carl E. Black and Dr. A. L. Adams have returned from Minneapolis, Minn., where they attended the national meeting of the American Medical association.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

The funeral services of Emanuel Nunes will be conducted Sunday at 2:30 at Northminster church.

ANNUAL MOODY GATHERING.

East Northfield, Mass., June 20.—The annual conference, the first of the annual religious gatherings established by Dwight L. Moody, opened here today with an attendance of college men from many of the leading institutions of the eastern states and Canada. The object of the conference is to stimulate interest in Christian work, both at home and abroad. Prominent persons will address the students during their nine days' stay here, including Dr. Robert E. Speer, John R. Mott and Dean Brown of the Yale divinity school.

SOUTHERN TEXTILE ASSOCIATION.

Charleston, S. C., June 20.—The annual convention of the Southern Textile association, composed of the engineers and operative officials of all the large cotton mills of the south, met here today and was called to order by President T. M. McIntire. Mill experts of New England as well as the south presented papers on various technical problems connected with the cotton manufacturing industry. The convention will conclude tomorrow with the election of officers.

ILLINOIS STATE NEWS.

Four prisoners recently escaped from the Macon county jail in Decatur. The delivery was planned by Ross Emency, a boy 17 years old, who used a piece of wire to unlock the locks. The same plan was followed four years ago when a diamond thief made his escape. This was the third delivery in two years time.

Matron Needed at Joliet—The need of a matron in the Joliet police department was demonstrated recently when Sergeant James McCraney discovered a woman lying naked in a swamp near the outskirts of the city. The problem of dressing the woman was a ticklish one truly.

In one hand she had a half-bottle of whiskey and in the other a bunch of onions and a link of wire. "It was so hot that I came down here to be cool," said the woman. "We have to handle a great many women here, and in many of the cases it is hard for a man to do what is required of him as a policeman. A competent woman is what we need," said Chief of Police Murphy.

Thief Returned Priest's Vestments—While in Carlinville to attend the funeral of Father Hoven, Bishop Ryan of Alton had his satchel, which contained his gold chain, cross and vestments, valued at over $400, exchanged for one containing a few old clothes. A few days later the stolen satchel was returned to the depot and was returned to its owner, who was much pleased as the chain and cross had been gifts that he prized greatly. It is believed that the party who took the satchel discovered he could not dispose of its contents to advantage and fearing detection returned it to the depot.

Must Pay Immense Fine—Samuel T. Danley of Macomb, who at the present time is serving out a $2,000 fine for selling intoxicating liquor, of which he was found guilty on 10 counts in the last term of county court, will be required to pay an additional fine of $1,000 before he can gain his release from custody.

The fine of $1,000 and costs was assessed against him in the June term of court, 1912, and has never been paid, but has been hanging fire since that time in the higher court. At this trial he was convicted on ten counts but this being his first offense he was fined $100 on each count. The second time he was tried for the same offense, his fine on each count was $200. He will be compelled to pay $2,000 and costs, in default of which he will work on the streets and alleys of Macomb until he has worked out the amount at the rate of $1.50 for each working day.

AGREE ON ELECTRIC RATES.

Pittsfield, Barry and Griggsville have agreed with President Sampson of the Central Illinois Public Service Co. for a new and lower electric rate. These cities have been paying 29 cents per kilowatt hour and under new scale will pay 14½ cents for the first thirty hours and eight cents afterward, subject to a discount of 1 cent.

A letter from G. W. Hamilton, general superintendent of the company, explains the rates as follows:

"Your billing commencing with the July consumption of current, will be at the rate of 14½ cents per K. W. hour for the first 30 hours use of your maximum demand and 8c per K. W. hour for all current consumed in excess of the 30 hours use of your maximum demand. There will be a one cent discount for prompt payment, which will net you 13½c for the first 30 hours use and 7c for all other usage."

WILL CUT WHEAT TODAY.

WILL DISCUSS IMPORTANT QUESTIONS REGARDING BLIND

National Convention of Educators Here June 24-27—Will Consider Matters of Industrial, Educational and Literary Nature.

The education of the adult blind, the comparative merits of the Braille and New York Point systems of blind writing, the work and scope of blind institutions, and industrial and workshop problems will be among the questions discussed by the convention here June 24 to 27 of blind educators from all parts of the United States. Besides experts on education from each state of the union, prominent blind men will discuss the foregoing and other questions. The first session of the convention will be held at the School for the Blind Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 and three sessions per day will be held Wednesday and Thursday, June 25 and 26. The convention will close the afternoon of the 27th.

To Compare Blind Writing Systems. One of the most important questions arising from the discussion is the relative merits of the American Braille and New York Point systems of blind writing, about which a controversy has raged for many years. The report will be heard of a type committee which has been appointed to investigate the question and has made tests for speed and accuracy in every state school in the country. It is hoped that the report of this committee will settle the dispute and put an end to the unnecessary expense arising from the useless duplication of text books and literature.

The delegates will arrive and register the morning and afternoon of Tuesday the 24th and will be formally welcomed in the evening by Supt. Robert W. Woolston. A response on behalf of the delegates will be made by Ehen P. Morford, president of the association. A musical program will follow under the direction of Miss Lillian A. Smith, the director of music at the Illinois School for the Blind. The address of the evening entitled, "The Other Blind Fellow," will be made by George R. Bellows, vice-president of the Associated Blind Men of Maryland.

Some Important Themes. The education of the newly blind adult will be discussed Wednesday morning at 9:30 in a symposium prepared by Mrs. Charles F. Campbell from the experience of workers from many states. Printed copies of this symposium will be prepared and distributed among the delegates with the request that they be added to and corrected before the end of the convention. Pecuniary relief for indigent blind and the treatment of homeless and infirm blind will also be discussed at this session. The request of the above mentioned uniform type committee will be heard at 2:45 in the afternoon.

The convention will assemble Wednesday evening at 8:30 to consider the serious and economic problems involved in the intermarriage of the blind. Charles F. F. Campbell of Ohio will lead a discussion about the inauguration of work for the adult blind and Lucy A. Goldthwaite will lead another on libraries for the blind.

The topic for discussion at 9:30 Thursday, the 26th, is "What specific training is needed for the field workers and how may it be supplied?" Graduates from various blind schools will next be heard on "How the school for the blind helped me most and how it might have helped me more." The delegates will adjourn Thursday afternoon to the park for an outing.

Round Table Discussion. At 7:30 Miss Janet G. Patterson, supervisor of blind children in public schools, Newark, N. J., will talk on the elements of strength and weakness in educating blind children in schools for the seeing and blind in schools for the blind. A round table discussion will be heard at 8:45 on the pursuits in which the blind may be employed with the seeing and a committee consisting of Edward G. Pease, E. J. Nolan and Charles F. F. Campbell, appointed at the Overbrook convention will report on this subject. Another discussion will be led by Millard F. Baldwin of Maine on some of the problems of workshops and industrial homes.

The morning of Friday, June 27, will be occupied with a business session and a continued report of the uniform type committee.

The topic for discussion at 2:30 Friday afternoon is left to the option of the delegates.

SCOTT'S HIPPODROME OPENED TO PUBLIC FRIDAY NIGHT

"Satan," a Motion Picture Drama, Drew Vast Audiences—Luman Mann Gave Graphic Lecture.

At Scott's Hippodrome Friday night more than seventeen hundred people flocked in to see the wonderful motion picture drama, "Satan." The opening of the Hippodrome had been watched for with interest and the patrons were delighted with the spacious comfort that Mr. Scott has provided. Hundreds of the audience had little or no idea of what the Hippodrome really is, but they all arrived at the opinion, getting a close at hand view of the amusement house that Mr. Scott has something to show for the many thousand dollars he has invested.

"Satan" is a production in no way similar to the Dante's Inferno performance. It does not portray the gruesome tortures of the damned, but rather temptation and sin. It presents a mile of film giving a vivid visualization of the world-old struggle of Satan with the good that the world has known.

Satan is not only wonderful as a play, but it preaches a great sermon and is of the greatest educational value.

Reel one is taken from Milton's Paradise Lost. Part two from the Messiah by Klopstock. Part three shows Satan in the middle ages, and part four is laid in modern days.

There is the battle in the heavens between the good and the bad angels, and when Satan is defeated he starts his destruction on earth by robbing Adam and Eve of their purity. As years roll by he leads his victims into murder, battles, idolatry and wickedness of all kinds. He causes trouble between the trust and labor classes. He tries to win the Savior himself, but is unsuccessful, and then he spends his time leading mankind astray. Then when his foul work is accomplished, it is Satan who glories in their downfall.

Among the most notable scenes is the building and the fall of the Tower of Babel, the War of the Elements, the famous stone road from Turin to Rome, the ruins of the holy convent of the Immaculate Conception.

Luman C. Mann, an authoritative speaker on classical films, adds immensely to the interest by his lecture as the story of the films is unfolded. Mr. Mann has traveled in the Holy Land, he has taken part in the Passion Play and has other experiences which fit him especially to present to lessons and facts which underlie this great picture.

No doubt there will be just as many anxious to see "Satan" tonight as was true last night.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Wyatt-Adams.

Benjamin F. Wyatt, a student at the American School of Osteopathy, of Kirksville, Mo., and Mrs. Jessie Adams of Winchester, also a student at the institution, were recently married in the parsonage of the First Congregational church in Quincy, Rev. J. R. Smith officiating. Their wedding came as a great surprise to their many friends. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Van Meter of Winchester. They will remain at the school during the summer and take a special course.

Crouder-Marks.

The marriage of C. H. Crouder and Miss Anna Marks took place Thursday at Silvis, Ill. Rev. Mr. Reid of the Baptist church officiating. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Marks of 817 South Fayette street. The groom is an oil inspector for the Rock Island railroad at Silvis. Mr. and Mrs. Marks arrived in Jacksonville Friday and will be guests at her parents' home for several days.

Howe-Rinaker.

One of the most prominent weddings in Carlinville was the marriage Wednesday night of Miss Harriet Rinaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rinaker, to Dr. Paul Edward Howe of New York City, son of Prof. and Mrs. E. G. Howe of Chicago. The bride is a relative of the family of Mrs. J. L. Wylder of this city. Miss Ethel Wylder was among those who attended the wedding. Several weeks will be spent by Dr. and Mrs. Howe at the summer home of the bride's uncle, Judge Lewis Rinaker at Eagle River, Wis., after which they will reside in New York, where the doctor is connected with Columbia university.

Plunkett-Hynes.

William H. Plunkett, formerly of Perry, Mo., and Miss Blanche Hynes of Alexander, were married at the First Christian church in Springfield Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock, the ceremony being performed by Rev. F. W. Burnham. The bride has been making her home with her brother, Frank Hynes, north of Alexander. The groom is employed at the power house of the Utilities company in Springfield. They will reside at 915 South Ninth street, Springfield.

Forehand-Duff.

Miss Susie Duff, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Duff, formerly of Litterberry, was united in marriage at the home of her parents at Oconee, Ill., to Carl Forehand of Vernon, this state. They will live on a farm near Vernon.

Vermillion-Campbell.

Announcement has just been made of the marriage of Lynn V. Vermillion and Miss Grace D. Campbell. The young people are residents of White Hall and secretly went to St. Louis, where they were married Wednesday of last week, Rev. A. C. Smithers officiating. They returned home and lived apart but somehow the secret leaked out. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Martha Campbell and is a graduate of the White Hall High school with the class of 1909. She is a sister of Mrs. Bascom Lair of Jacksonville. The groom is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Vermillion and is a graduate of the high school with the class of 1910. He is a telegraph operator in the employment of the Burlington railroad. The young people expect to visit here before starting on a wedding trip to the Pacific coast and it is probable that they will make the west their home.

DR. R. R. BUCKTHORPE BUYS HIPPOBILE.

Dr. Robert R. Buckthorpe purchased a Hippobile, 32 roadster, yesterday from Newman & Son. The car is to be delivered tomorrow and the doctor may well feel proud of his purchase.

The Hippobile is a car with an established reputation and represents the most excellent in workmanship of the cars of its class.

The Ladies Aid society of Clarks chapel met at the home of the vice-president, Mrs. Austin King, Wednesday evening. The gathering was held on the lawn and there was present over sixty. Good music was furnished by the young people and palatable refreshments were served.

Aside from the members of the society present were Mr. and Mrs. James Breckon, Miss Myrtle Larimore, Miss Helen Laurie, Mrs. James Breckon, Nathan Carpenter, Earl Carpenter, Mr. Bosler, Miss John McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Curtis, Mrs. Mary Collins, Mrs. King, Miss Irene Phillips, Miss Edith Tichnor.

Away back in 1860 very few men would consider wearing STRAW HATS. Today very few men are content to wear any other kind in the good old summer time. For the man who wants the most comfort, most style and most service FRANK BYRNS' Hat Store shows THE STRAW WITHOUT A FLAW.

WITH SICK PEOPLE.

Miss Nell Faugust is ill at her home on East State street.

Miss Maria Ernesta Nunes of Mercedosia, who is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Vieira on North Diamond street, was taken very ill Friday. Her mother was called to her bedside from Mercedosia.

Albert Strong, porter at the Pacific hotel, has been ill for the past two weeks.

WHERE OFFICES ARE COOL.

It's hot and stuffy in the average down town store and office room, but this is not the case in the Ayers National bank building and the weather conditions recently have served to impress the fact that Jacksonville professional and business men are especially fortunate in having such a building at their disposal. When the air seems dull and heavy on the streets, a trip up the elevator to any one of the floors of the bank building proves that there is a fine breeze stirring "higher up." Those who have offices in the building are enthusiastic about this feature and are congratulating themselves that they became tenants before hot, strength sapping days came. A man in a cool comfortable office with fresh air coming in at the windows can do more work than a man sitting at his desk mopping his brow and willing his collar.

SUSPENDS PUBLICATION.

The White Hall Republican, which has been in business for thirty-seven consecutive years, founded by the late Capt. B. J. Pearce has suspended publication, at least for the present. The paper has been one of the leading prints of Greene county. After the death of Capt. Pearce in 1907 his sons, Fred V. and Ray B., under the firm name of Pearce Brothers took up the business and also started a commercial printing and catalogue work. They organized a company with a capital stock of $15,000, which was later increased to $20,000. The brothers went to a big expense in equipping the office and for a time business boomed. For the past twelve months, however, business has continued to diminish and conditions were such that the management decided to cease operations for the present at least.
